Senate OK's $1.8 Billion For Schools

House Cut Looms; Ike's Veto Seen In Present Form

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a $1,834,000,000 school aid bill to provide federal grants both for classroom construction and for teachers' salaries.

But there were indications today that the House would not approve the salary provisions, and that President Eisenhower would veto the measure if Congress passes it in its present form.

The 51-34 vote by which the Senate passed the measure Thursday night is far short of the two-thirds that would be needed to override a veto.

House Democratic leaders say that they expect to pass school legislation before the 86th Congress quits. But they assert their branch is likely to limit the funds to school construction, omitting teacher salaries which were included in the Senate bill.

The Senate vote was the latest move in a long fight running back to 1871 to win congressional passage of general federal aid for public elementary and high schools.

Senate aides said it was the first time in history that support of teacher salaries had been singled out for specific mention in an education bill.

The outcome was an important victory for the National Education Assn. and other teacher organizations over the nation.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) told the Senate Eisenhower would be particularly unhappy with the teacher salary provision.

The states would decide how much would go to salary increases, and how much to new buildings.

The annual grant total in the bill was obtained by multiplying the number of school age children in the country by $20.

However, the money would be allocated among the states on a formula based on relative school-age population as weighted by relative income per school age child.

There would be no matching requirement the first year; in the second year the states would have to put up an average of one dollar for each four of federal aid, but this would vary sharply among the states based on their wealth.

Headed For Mothball Fleet

One Killed And 5 Missing As Swell Hits Destroyer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy destroyer racing full speed toward a ship's graveyard rolled sharply and was struck by an ocean swell Thursday. One man was killed aboard the vessel. Five more are missing in the icy Atlantic.

Ten sailors, some of them caught without warning as they took motion pictures of the destroyer Daly's wake through the rough water, were swept overboard. Rescue ships found only five. Hope was virtually abandoned that any more survivors would be found.

"All of a sudden everyone started yelling, and I could see them sliding off the deck under the lifeline and into the water," said Seaman Apprentice David Formichella, 19, of 27 Van Dyke Place, Summit, N. J. "The next thing I knew I was there with them."

Formichella and John Buzzi, 33, damage controlman 1st class of Barrington, R. I., managed to make their way to one of the liferafts swept overboard.

The two were picked up by the tanker Alabama and transferred to the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Marion for the run here. They were admitted to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital in good condition.

Ships and planes continued searching the Atlantic 200 miles off Virginia's Cape Henry through the night and morning without spotting any of the missing men.

The Daly and two other destroyers based at Newport, R. I., the Young and the Cotten, were headed for the mothball fleet in Hampton Roads. The full-speed run was to determine whether repairs were needed before the ships joined the reserve fleet.

City Seaman Serves On Ill-Fated Destroyer

Boiler Tender 2C Robert L. Miller of East Liverpool is serving on the destroyer Daly, which lost several members of her crew when they were swept overboard off Cape Henry, Virginia.

Miller, 40, son of George L. Miller of Crestview Dr., is a Navy careerman and has been in the service over 16 years. He survived the torpedoing of his ship in the Atlantic during World War II. He was a gunner then.

The Daly reported by radio that the full-power run had been under way for an hour and 40 minutes when the ship took a 65 degree roll, caused by an abnormal swell.

The time was 3:40 p.m.

Three of the men swept overboard when water cascaded across the decks were picked up by the Daly. The other survivors were Buzzi and Formichella.

Killed aboard the Daly was Seaman David Allen Dale, son of Viggo L. Dale of 74 Keller Ave., Kenmore, N.Y.

Listed as missing were:

Fireman Nicholas A. Calaluca of Wesley Ave., Beacon, N.Y.

Storekeeper 3rd Class Robert A. Carlson of 59 Holcomb St., West Haven, Conn.

Yeoman 2nd Class Charles E. Ellis of 121 Montclair St., North Madison Station, Madison, Ind.

Fireman Paul J. Harvey of 46 McKinley Ave., Lodi, N.J.

Internal Communication Man Gerral J. Neberz of 460 E. Broadway, Crystal Lake, Ill.

Names of the three rescued by the Daly were not released immediately.

Air Disaster Occurs Near Cochabamba

Most Of Persons On DC4 Are Believed To Be Bolivians

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Fifty-nine persons aboard a Lloyd Aereo Boliviano airliner were killed today when the plane crashed near Cochabamba.

The DC4 airliner crashed a few minutes after takeoff at Cochabamba en route to La Paz.

Officials of the airlines said they did not know the cause of the accident.

The airline reported, however, that all persons aboard perished. There were 55 passengers and 4 crew members. The passengers included 45 adults, and 10 children. Among the latter were five babies.

Most if not all those aboard were believed to be Bolivians.

No passenger list was available immediately.

French Chief Adds Strength To His Cabinet

Promotes Backers Of Algerian Policy, Fires Ex-Strong Man

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle strengthened his Cabinet today by promoting steadfast supporters of his Algerian policy and firing Jacques Soustelle, leading spokesman of the French colonialists in Algeria.

Soustelle, once touted as the strong man of De Gaulle's supporters, was ousted from the post of minister of the Sahara, atomic energy and overseas possessions because of his identification with the Algiers insurgents who unsuccessfully defied De Gaulle last week.

Another casualty was Communications Minister Bernard Cornut-Gentille, who had wanted to compromise with the rebellious French settlers.

A brief announcement from the President's press office said that De Gaulle had approved the departure from the Cabinet of Soustelle and Cornut-Gentille.

Defense Minister Pierre Guillaumat was demoted to minister-delegate charged with atomic research, part of Soustelle's former duties. He had been severely criticized because the army let the settlers' revolt in Algiers drag on for eight days instead of nipping it at the start.

Michel Maurice-Bokanowski, long a Gaullist, and secretary of state at the Interior Ministry, was moved up to head the Communications Ministry.

Information Minister Roger Frey was promoted to a minister-delegate. His duties were not immediately announced, but it was believed he would replace Robert Lecourt in charge of relations with the French Community. Lecourt becomes a minister of state for relations with Parliament, the Sahara and overseas departments and territories, the latter being part of Soustelle's former province.

Newcomers to the Cabinet included Pierre Messmer, career civil servant and former high commissioner of French West Africa, named defense minister; Louis Terrenoire, head of the Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic, named information minister; and Jean Foyer, UNR member of the National Assembly, named secretary of state for relations with the French Community.

The Foreign Ministry remains in the hands of career diplomat Maurice Couve de Murville.

Under De Gaulle's new constitution, Cabinet appointments no longer have to be approved by the National Assembly.

Vote On Levies Slated By 2 More Townships

Two more townships have asked the County Election Board for ballot places for votes on tax levies at the May 3 primaries, raising to 10 the number of special questions and issues.

Washington Township has filed a new half-mill levy for police protection. It would be in effect two years.

West Township has requested a vote on renewal of a 2-mill levy for road maintenance and construction. It also would be in effect 2 years.

Israeli Troops Move Toward Egyptian Area

CAIRO (AP) — Heavy movement of Israeli troops to the Egyptian frontier in the Negev was reported in Cairo today.

Press reports here said Israeli troops were moving southward in the Beersheba region to counter Egyptian troop concentrations in the Sinai Peninsula — scene of Israel's big drive toward the Suez Canal in 1956.

The Egyptian movements were announced earlier this week following the eruption of fighting on the Syrian-Israeli frontier.

There were no reports of further frontier incidents by noon today.

The Cairo press said, however, that the Israelis are continuing a military buildup near the demilitarized zone, southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

"This indicates she intends to pursue her attempts to occupy Tawafik village, which the Israelis virtually wiped out in an attack last Monday," the newspaper Al Ahram reported.

Maj. Gen. Gamal Faisal, commander of the army based in Syria, told reporters "We are in a state of readiness all along the front."

Should trouble break out on the frontiers of either Syria or Egypt, Israel automatically faces a two-front war since Syria and Egypt are now one country and the army is under a single command.

Al Ahram reported the United Arab Republic told United Nations officials it is prepared to use force if necessary "to compel Israel to respect U.N. resolutions and stop her attacks on Arabs living in the demilitarized zone."

Man In Paregoric Case Is Released From Jail

A 59-year-old Wheelng man was released from the County Jail at Lisbon Thursday after an indictment for illegally obtaining a narcotic at a city drugstore was dismissed by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

John Dalton was freed after County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw cited a recent Court of Appeals ruling that paregoric is not a narcotic under Ohio law.

Dalton was arrested here on grounds he obtained paregoric illegally by using a false name. He had been jailed since Oct. 17. Brokaw said he learned of the status of the paregoric in a Madison County case for which the appeals ruling was released Monday. Paregoric is considered a medicinal preparation because of the minute presence of opium, according to the federal narcotics law.

X15's Fifth Powered Flight Is Called Off

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Powered flight No. 5 for the X15 rocket ship was called off only a minute before the needle-nose craft was slated to be dropped from its mother plane.

Six Convicted In Arms Plot Will Appeal

5 Fined $10,000 Get 5-Year Terms; One Given 3 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted six men on charges of conspiring to fly stolen firearms to Cuban rebels.

Visiting Judge Roger T. Foley of Las Vegas sentenced the men in U.S. District Court soon after the verdict was reached Thursday. Fined $10,000 and given five-year prison terms each were:

Stuart Sutor, Hialeah, Fla.; Norman Rothman and Joseph Merola, both of Miami, Fla.; Victor Carlucci, New Kensington, Pa.; and Daniel Hanna, Arnold, Pa.

Joseph Giordano of New Kensington was given a three-year prison term but was not fined.

Defense attorneys said they would fly to Philadelphia today to file an appeal with the Third U.S. Circuit Court.

A defense motion for a new trial was refused by Judge Foley. He also turned down a request for bond for the defendants pending filing of the appeal. The men were jailed.

The six were convicted of scheming to transport weapons stolen from a National Guard armory in Canton, Ohio, to Cuban rebels in 1958 before Fidel Castro gained control of Cuba.

The government said the guns were loaded on a plane at an airport near Tarentum, Pa., and flown by Sutor to an airport near Morgantown, W. Va., on the first leg of a flight to Cuba. Sutor and the plane were seized at Morgantown. The other defendants were arrested later.

Following sentencing, Rothman was served with a bench warrant in connection with the theft of 12 million dollars worth of cash and jewels from the Brockville, Ont., Trust & Savings Co. in Canada on May 4, 1958. He already has been indicted in Chicago in that case.

Thermometer To Soar With 'Spring' Showers

Showers and mild temperatures gave a hint of spring today as the mercury rose into the high 40's with the unseasonable weather.

The Ohio weatherman said the thermometer will range between 42 and 47 today and tonight's low will be above freezing—33 to 38.

Thursday had a balmy afternoon with a high of 52 at Dam 8 and the rain early today amounted to 0.04 inch.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 35 at Toledo to 43 at Marietta. Columbus had 39, Cincinnati 42 and Canton 38. East Liverpool's was 39.

A light easterly wind prevailed overnight and the humidity was near 80 per cent.

Saturday will see showers and somewhat cooler.

If you are interested, spring is due March 20.

Theft Results In $200 Loss, But Little Loot

'Self-Serve' Laundry Change Devices Hit By Intruding Pair

About $200 loss resulted from a theft earlier today at the Night and Day Laundry at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.—most of it in property damage to a pair of automatic coin changing machines that were ripped by a crowbar.

A cigarette vending machine also was ripped open and looted in the theft, which apparently occurred between 5 and 6:45 this morning, police said.

A crowbar or similar prying device was used on the wall-mounted change machines, police said. The intruders loaded all their loot into a plastic basket owned by the laundry and then carried it to a point in an alley north of E. 3rd St., where their car apparently was parked, officers said.

One of the coin changing machines was carried away bodily after it was ripped from the wall. The lid popped off the other while it was being attacked by the pry bar, so the thieves reached inside and removed the money box, officers said.

Robert Patterson, owner of the laundry, said the loss was almost

Soviet Bloc Backs Mr. K On Germany

MOSCOW (AP) — The Warsaw Pact powers have lined up behind Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a showdown on the German problem at the East-West summit talks in May.

The eight-nation Communist alliance wound up a one-day conference Thursday night by threatening again to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany "and to solve on this basis the question of West Berlin as well."

The Soviet-led bloc backed the policies already laid down by Khrushchev — including the offer of a nonaggression pact with the North Atlantic alliance, universal disarmament, a ban on nuclear weapons and conversion of West Berlin into a "free city."

But the Red alliance seemed to show impatience on the German issue.

"Under present conditions a peace treaty can be signed only by both German states," said a communique. "We cannot agree that the solution to this question be delayed endlessly.

"This can only encourage the militarist and revenge-seeking forces of West Germany. If efforts directed at signing a peace treaty with both German states will not meet support, and the solution to this problem still faces delay, then the states represented at this conference will have no way out but to sign, together with other states which will be ready for that, a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, and on this basis to solve the problem of West Berlin as well."

Khrushchev signed for the Soviet Union as both head of the government and Communist Party Chairman. Both premiers and party leaders signed for the other countries—East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Albania.

Police Shoot Weirton Man In Burglary Try

WEIRTON — A 29-year-old man is in "satisfactory" condition today at Weirton General Hospital with a gunshot wound of the left shoulder received when he refused to surrender to police after being found in the basement of a N. Main St. store.

Alberto L. Cartier of Weirton will be questioned today concerning other burglaries in the Weirton area.

Police said Cartier was found hiding behind a crate in the basement of Davis Men's Store and refused an order to surrender from Patrolmen Milan Vidich and Pete Moncilovich.

Cartier began to run and grabbed for his pocket. Believing the man armed, Vidich fired one shot and it pierced a partition and struck Cartier as he attempted to duck behind it, the officers said.

4 Rush Past Turnkey, Flee Warren Jail

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four men broke out of the Trumbull County Jail here early today.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Humble, the turnkey on duty, said the escapees rushed past him and dashed out a side entrance to the jail when he opened the outside door to a first-floor cell block to remove some garbage cans about 5:30 a.m.

Sheriff's officers, city police and the Ohio Highway Patrol combed the city and adjoining area in a search for the fugitives.

Humble identified the escapees as Gus Moamis, 19, of Warren; James Stryker, 20, of Warren; Raymond Bishop, 27, of McDonald, all charged with armed robbery, and Jack Grafton, 28, of Warren, held as a parole violator.

The turnkey said the inside door to the cell block was left unlocked when deputies brought in two prisoners about an hour before the break. This allowed the four escapees to gather in a small vestibule between the two doors, where they were waiting for him when he went to get the garbage cans, he said.

Man Arrested Here Among 4 Fugitives

One of the four men who escaped from the Trumbull County jail had been taken into custody in East Liverpool Monday by local police and Trumbull County deputies.

He is James Stryker, 20, of Warren, who was picked up here after the Trumbull County authorities received information he had been seen in East Liverpool.

Thieves Flee Tavern When Alarm Sounds

ROGERS — A burglar alarm awakened Fred Musselwhite, operator of the Y-Inn, at 1:40 a. m. today, and he investigated to find the intruders had fled the tavern.

A window on the north side of the building had been broken and the electric wires for lighting had been cut by the thieves, who overlooked the alarm wires.

Musselwhite, who had hurriedly dressed and obtained his shotgun, was rounding a corner of the building when the sheriff's department night patrol cruiser officer pulled up at the site because the lights were off, Sheriff Russell VanFossan reported.

The tavern has been entered a number of times in past years.

Busy On Both Coasts

U.S. Missile Teams Post 2 Successes, One Fizzle

By The Associated Press

U.S. missile teams, busy on both coasts, recorded a successful doubleheader at Cape Canaveral and a delayed fizzle at Vandenberg Air Force Base Thursday.

The Discoverer IX satellite, rocket left its pad at Vandenberg in fine form. But Air Force officers at the California installation announced later that the rocket failed to achieve orbital velocity.

They said they lacked information on whether the second stage separated from the first. After failing to reach orbital speed, the rocket fell back into the earth's atmosphere.

In the two successful firings at the Florida cape, a Jupiter roared aloft on a final 1,500-mile test flight and a Polaris recorded its fifth straight hit on an Atlantic target 900 miles away.

The 28-foot Polaris, trailing the characteristic plume of white smoke from its solid-fuel engine, went first.

Two hours later, a 60-foot Jupiter blazed across the sky. The Army later said the shot was successful and added that the test series for the liquid-fueled giant had been completed four months ahead of time.

The Navy announced the success of the Polaris, which is slated to become standard equipment on nuclear submarines in the not-too-distant future.

While the Air Force was launching the Discoverer at Vandenberg, Sandia Corp. scientists were firing a high altitude rocket probe 30 miles down the California coast at the Navy's Point Arguello missile facility.

The Navy said attempts to recover the 250-pound payload were abandoned Thursday because of rough seas and low visibility.

Senate OK's $1.8 Billion For Schools

House Cut Looms; Ike's Veto Seen In Present Form

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a $1,834,000,000 school aid bill to provide federal grants both for classroom construction and for teachers' salaries.

But there were indications today that the House would not approve the salary provisions, and that President Eisenhower would veto the measure if Congress passes it in its present form.

The 51-34 vote by which the Senate passed the measure Thursday night is far short of the two-thirds that would be needed to override a veto.

House Democratic leaders say that they expect to pass school legislation before the 86th Congress quits. But they assert their branch is likely to limit the funds to school construction, omitting teacher salaries which were included in the Senate bill.

The Senate vote was the latest move in a long fight running back to 1871 to win congressional passage of general federal aid for public elementary and high schools.

Senate aides said it was the first time in history that support of teacher salaries had been singled out for specific mention in an education bill.

The outcome was an important victory for the National Education Assn. and other teacher organizations over the nation.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) told the Senate Eisenhower would be particularly unhappy with the teacher salary provision.

The states would decide how much would go to salary increases, and how much to new buildings.

The annual grant total in the bill was obtained by multiplying the number of school age children in the country by $20.

However, the money would be allocated among the states on a formula based on relative school-age population as weighted by relative income per school age child.

There would be no matching requirement the first year; in the second year the states would have to put up an average of one dollar for each four of federal aid, but this would vary sharply among the states based on their wealth.

Headed For Mothball Fleet

One Killed And 5 Missing As Swell Hits Destroyer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy destroyer racing full speed toward a ship's graveyard rolled sharply and was struck by an ocean swell Thursday. One man was killed aboard the vessel. Five more are missing in the icy Atlantic.

Ten sailors, some of them caught without warning as they took motion pictures of the destroyer Daly's wake through the rough water, were swept overboard. Rescue ships found only five. Hope was virtually abandoned that any more survivors would be found.

"All of a sudden everyone started yelling, and I could see them sliding off the deck under the lifeline and into the water," said Seaman Apprentice David Formichella, 19, of 27 Van Dyke Place, Summit, N. J. "The next thing I knew I was there with them."

Formichella and John Buzzi, 33, damage controlman 1st class of Barrington, R. I., managed to make their way to one of the liferafts swept overboard.

The two were picked up by the tanker Alabama and transferred to the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Marion for the run here. They were admitted to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital in good condition.

Ships and planes continued searching the Atlantic 200 miles off Virginia's Cape Henry through the night and morning without spotting any of the missing men.

The Daly and two other destroyers based at Newport, R. I., the Young and the Cotten, were headed for the mothball fleet in Hampton Roads. The full-speed run was to determine whether repairs were needed before the ships joined the reserve fleet.

The Daly reported by radio that the full-power run had been under way for an hour and 40 minutes when the ship took a 65 degree roll, caused by an abnormal swell.

The time was 3:40 p.m.

Three of the men swept overboard when water cascaded across the decks were picked up by the Daly. The other survivors were Buzzi and Formichella.

Killed aboard the Daly was Seaman David Allen Dale, son of Viggo L. Dale of 74 Keller Ave., Kenmore, N.Y.

Listed as missing were:

Fireman Nicholas A. Calaluca of Wesley Ave., Beacon, N.Y.

Storekeeper 3rd Class Robert A. Carlson of 59 Holcomb St., West Haven, Conn.

Yeoman 2nd Class Charles E. Ellis of 121 Montclair St., North Madison Station, Madison, Ind.

Fireman Paul J. Harvey of 46 McKinley Ave., Lodi, N.J.

Internal Communication Man Gerral J. Neberz of 460 E. Broadway, Crystal Lake, Ill.

Names of the three rescued by the Daly were not released immediately.

City Seaman Serves On Ill-Fated Destroyer

Boiler Tender 2C Robert L. Miller of East Liverpool is serving on the destroyer Daly, which lost several members of her crew when they were swept overboard off Cape Henry, Virginia.

Miller, 40, son of George L. Miller of Crestview Dr., is a Navy careerman and has been in the service over 16 years. He survived the torpedoing of his ship in the Atlantic during World War II. He was a gunner then.

Air Disaster Occurs Near Cochabamba

Most Of Persons On DC4 Are Believed To Be Bolivians

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Fifty-nine persons aboard a Lloyd Aereo Boliviano airliner were killed today when the plane crashed near Cochabamba.

The DC4 airliner crashed a few minutes after takeoff at Cochabamba en route to La Paz.

Officials of the airlines said they did not know the cause of the accident.

The airline reported, however, that all persons aboard perished. There were 55 passengers and 4 crew members. The passengers included 45 adults, and 10 children. Among the latter were five babies.

Most if not all those aboard were believed to be Bolivians.

No passenger list was available immediately.

4 Rush Past Turnkey, Flee Warren Jail

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four men broke out of the Trumbull County Jail here early today.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Humble, the turnkey on duty, said the escapees rushed past him and dashed out a side entrance to the jail when he opened the outside door to a first-floor cell block to remove some garbage cans about 5:30 a.m.

Sheriff's officers, city police and the Ohio Highway Patrol combed the city and adjoining area in a search for the fugitives.

Humble identified the escapees as Gus Moamis, 19, of Warren; James Stryker, 20, of Warren; Raymond Bishop, 27, of McDonald, all charged with armed robbery, and Jack Grafton, 28, of Warren, held as a parole violator.

The turnkey said the inside door to the cell block was left unlocked when deputies brought in two prisoners about an hour before the break. This allowed the four escapees to gather in a small vestibule between the two doors, where they were waiting for him when he went to get the garbage cans, he said.

Man Arrested Here Among 4 Fugitives

One of the four men who escaped from the Trumbull County jail had been taken into custody in East Liverpool Monday by local police and Trumbull County deputies.

He is James Stryker, 20, of Warren, who was picked up here after the Trumbull County authorities received information he had been seen in East Liverpool.

Theft Results In $200 Loss, But Little Loot

'Self-Serve' Laundry Change Devices Hit By Intruding Pair

About $200 loss resulted from a theft earlier today at the Night and Day Laundry at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.—most of it in property damage to a pair of automatic coin changing machines that were ripped by a crowbar.

A cigarette vending machine also was ripped open and looted in the theft, which apparently occurred between 5 and 6:45 this morning, police said.

A crowbar or similar prying device was used on the wall-mounted change machines, police said. The intruders loaded all their loot into a plastic basket owned by the laundry and then carried it to a point in an alley north of E. 3rd St., where their car apparently was parked, officers said.

One of the coin changing machines was carried away bodily after it was ripped from the wall. The lid popped off the other while it was being attacked by the pry bar, so the thieves reached inside and removed the money box, officers said.

Robert Patterson, owner of the laundry, said the loss was almost

Soviet Bloc Backs Mr. K On Germany

MOSCOW (AP) — The Warsaw Pact powers have lined up behind Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a showdown on the German problem at the East-West summit talks in May.

The eight-nation Communist alliance wound up a one-day conference Thursday night by threatening again to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany "and to solve on this basis the question of West Berlin as well."

The Soviet-led bloc backed the policies already laid down by Khrushchev — including the offer of a nonaggression pact with the North Atlantic alliance, universal disarmament, a ban on nuclear weapons and conversion of West Berlin into a "free city."

But the Red alliance seemed to show impatience on the German issue.

"Under present conditions a peace treaty can be signed only by both German states," said a communique. "We cannot agree that the solution to this question be delayed endlessly.

"This can only encourage the militarist and revenge-seeking forces of West Germany. If efforts directed at signing a peace treaty with both German states will not meet support, and the solution to this problem still faces delay, then the states represented at this conference will have no way out but to sign, together with other states which will be ready for that, a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, and on this basis to solve the problem of West Berlin as well."

Khrushchev signed for the Soviet Union as both head of the government and Communist Party Chairman. Both premiers and party leaders signed for the other countries—East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Albania.

Police Shoot Weirton Man In Burglary Try

WEIRTON — A 29-year-old man is in "satisfactory" condition today at Weirton General Hospital with a gunshot wound of the left shoulder received when he refused to surrender to police after being found in the basement of a N. Main St. store.

Alberto L. Cartier of Weirton will be questioned today concerning other burglaries in the Weirton area.

Police said Cartier was found hiding behind a crate in the basement of Davis Men's Store and refused an order to surrender from Patrolmen Milan Vidich and Pete Moncilovich.

Cartier began to run and grabbed for his pocket. Believing the man armed, Vidich fired one shot and it pierced a partition and struck Cartier as he attempted to duck behind it, the officers said.

Thieves Flee Tavern When Alarm Sounds

ROGERS — A burglar alarm awakened Fred Musselwhite, operator of the Y-Inn, at 1:40 a. m. today, and he investigated to find the intruders had fled the tavern.

A window on the north side of the building had been broken and the electric wires for lighting had been cut by the thieves, who overlooked the alarm wires.

Musselwhite, who had hurriedly dressed and obtained his shotgun, was rounding a corner of the building when the sheriff's department night patrol cruiser officer pulled up at the site because the lights were off, Sheriff Russell VanFossan reported.

The tavern has been entered a number of times in past years.

Busy On Both Coasts

U.S. Missile Teams Post 2 Successes, One Fizzle

By The Associated Press

U.S. missile teams, busy on both coasts, recorded a successful doubleheader at Cape Canaverl and a delayed fizzle at Vandenberg Air Force Base Thursday.

The Discoverer IX satellite, rocket left its pad at Vandenberg in fine form. But Air Force officers at the California installation announced later that the rocket failed to achieve orbital velocity.

They said they lacked information on whether the second stage separated from the first. After failing to reach orbital speed, the rocket fell back into the earth's atmosphere.

In the two successful firings at the Florida cape, a Jupiter roared aloft on a final 1,500-mile test flight and a Polaris recorded its fifth straight hit on an Atlantic target 900 miles away.

The 28-foot Polaris, trailing the characteristic plume of white smoke from its solid-fuel engine, went first.

Two hours later, a 60-foot Jupiter blazed across the sky. The Army later said the shot was successful and added that the test series for the liquid-fueled giant had been completed four months ahead of time.

The Navy announced the success of the Polaris, which is slated to become standard equipment on nuclear submarines in the not-too-distant future.

While the Air Force was launching the Discoverer at Vandenberg, Sandia Corp. scientists were firing a high altitude rocket probe 30 miles down the California coast at the Navy's Point Arguello missile facility.

The Navy said attempts to recover the 250-pound payload were abandoned Thursday because of rough seas and low visibility.

5 Children, Bus Driver Marooned By Snow Are Safe

DALHART, Tex. (AP)—A weary sheriff Thursday found five children and a bus driver, marooned by 10-foot high snow drifts, warm and well fed in a ranch home.

Sheriff R. C. Johnson of Dalhart, and rescue workers labored through the night and half the day hunting for the missing persons. They were hampered by the high snow drifts in this wide-open and vast Panhandle country of Texas.

The bus driver, Sam Warden, 60, was taking the children to their rural homes Wednesday after school when he realized the snowstorm was too fierce for him to complete the trip. He drove a quarter to half a mile off his route to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, 18 miles from Dalhart.

The children were Phyllis Lacomp, Jimmy Blocker, and Linda, Sammy and Susie Singleton.

Warden was unable to call authorities because there was no phone at the ranch.

The sheriff called Dalhart on his radio and informed his office the children were well and happy. They expect to go home today.

Molesting, Bribe Charges Are Filed Against Man, 55

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP) — Charges of molesting a 10-year-old girl then trying to bribe two policemen who arrested him have been filed against a Willowick dance studio operator.

John F. Frabutt, 55, operator of a dance studio for about 15 months, was jailed on the charges Thursday.

Patrolmen Donald Fitzgerald and Ronald Dopirak, who arrested Frabutt at his music center, said Frabutt handed $102 to Dopirak as a down payment on a $1,500 bribe offer to get the charge against him dismissed. The cash was confiscated as evidence.

Frabutt, a divorcee, was freed on $500 bond Tuesday after pleading innocent in Lake County Juvenile Court to a charge of molesting a nine-year-old girl pupil. The girl said he kissed and fondled her while driving her home from dancing lessons.

The rearrest came after a 10-year-old girl pupil made similar accusations, police said.

Begins Jail Term

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Chester A. Myers, Montgomery County Treasurer, began a three-day jail term here Thursday on a drunken driving conviction. He also was fined $200. A similar charge faces Myers in Dayton.

5 Children, Bus Driver Marooned By Snow Are Safe

DALHART, Tex. (AP)—A weary sheriff Thursday found five children and a bus driver, marooned by 10-foot high snow drifts, warm and well fed in a ranch home.

Sheriff R. C. Johnson of Dalhart, and rescue workers labored through the night and half the day hunting for the missing persons. They were hampered by the high snow drifts in this wide-open and vast Panhandle country of Texas.

The bus driver, Sam Warden, 60, was taking the children to their rural homes Wednesday after school when he realized the snowstorm was too fierce for him to complete the trip. He drove a quarter to half a mile off his route to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, 18 miles from Dalhart.

The children were Phyllis Lacomp, Jimmy Blocker, and Linda, Sammy and Susie Singleton.

Warden was unable to call authorities because there was no phone at the ranch.

The sheriff called Dalhart on his radio and informed his office the children were well and happy. They expect to go home today.

Fidel, Catspaw Of The Antilles

U.S. investments in Cuban agriculture and industry are doomed by policies of the Castro regime. Gulf Oil Corp. announced early last month it would quit exploring for oil. Stockholders of West Indies Sugar Corp. are voting on a plan to put their Cuban operation on the shelf.

There was no special surprise in the Castro government's decision to expropriate property; that move had been a long time in the making. It had its origin in the over-exploitation of Cuba by foreign investors who failed to understand the explosive resentment being piled up against the Batista type of rule by force.

What is signing off uotside investor interest in Cuba is its failure to provide assured compensation for appropriated property values. This is a special kind of hostility to private enterprise that is overjoying Cuban Communists and their associated conspirators in other Latin American countries. Their principal aim is to discredit private enterprises, in preparation for their bid to take over Latin America.

It must be noted in this connection that Cuban Communists do not consider Castro to be a sympathizer. Gen. C. P. Cabell USAF, deputy director of Central Intelligence Agency, put it this way in recent testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee:

"Our information shows that the Cuban Communists do not consider (Fidel Castro) a Community party member, or even a pro-Communist. On the other hand, they are delighted with the nature of his government, which has allowed the Communists opportunity—free opportunity—to organize, to propagandize and infiltrate . . . The Communist viewpoint is that (Castro) presents leadership of a nationalistic, burgois-democratic revolution which precedes a Communist rise to power."

There is no need to waste time arguing about the possibility that Fidel Castro might be a Communist. It doesn't matter whether he is a Communist or not, as long as he serves Communism's aim, which is to destroy private enterprise. Only then is created the vacuum into which political absolutists rush with their reactionary credo that they alone are capable of running everything.

Voting Comes Next

The voters will have their work cut out for them in the May 3 primaries, with 70 candidates from both the Republican and Democratic parties filing for district and county offices.

The Democrats have 11 candidates for district offices and 27 for county posts; the Republicans 9 and 23 for similar positions.

Offices at stake are Congress, state representative, state Senate and these county posts — probate judge, clerk of courts, commissioner, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer, coroner, sheriff and recorder. There will not be races for all positions in May, however, some candidates being unopposed.

By their very numbers, the candidates have displayed an interest in state and county government. It's up to the electorate to do likewise.

Now is the time to begin analyzing those who are seeking the various offices, not a day or two before the voting. The primaries are important. From those chosen in May will come the eventual winners in the fall election.

Somebody's Word For It

We can be as impressed by a contrary opinion as anyone else. But when the professional military brass snipe at their commander-in-chief over budget decisions, it never fails to seem perfectly clear to us that this is one time for the brass to show a sense of proportion and shut up.

The chief executive stands between them and the people who put up the money for defense. It is his job to make tough decisions about the budget, military and otherwise. It is not his job to win a popularity contest with the hotly competing branches of the military services. There never was enough money to make all their chiefs happy.

It also is the President's job to conduct the foreign policy of the United States and to play a leading part in keeping the right image of the United States in focus in foreign capitals whose slippery politicians are maneuvering for position in the race between Washington and Moscow.

Furthermore, it is the President's job to keep an eye on the soundness of the currency, which entails doing what scarcely anyone in the spending end of public finances ever thinks of doing any more; namely, balancing outgo and income.

All these things enter into Presidential decisions about the military budget. Only one thing enters into the professional militarists' contrary opinions. They aim to get as much as they think they can use, plus a margin for waste and error. Perhaps this is the way it must be, but it always has the effect of making it appear that the White House is being niggardly, wrong-headed and short sighted if it opposes them.

When 41 billion dollars in an 80-billion-dollar budget have been proposed for defense, the White House is not being niggardly. Contrary to the military snipers and their political coat-holders, we do not think President Eisenhower is being wrong-headed or shortsighted when he tells his former fellow officers in effect to shut up and let him do the talking about defense policy.

As we said at the beginning, we can be impressed with a contrary opinion, but in this instance we have no choice but to take the word of the commander-in-chief that the money is going to be split up equitably. He alone is responsible for taking everything into consideration. He alone must try to grind all the axes, whereas his critics grind only one—their own.

Sign Them, Please!

Thursday's mail brought a letter which supported The Review policy on the situation in Hancock County.

It was postmarked "Chester" and signed an "Outraged Citizen". It was highly critical of things across the river. Unfortunately, from our point of view, it failed to carry a signature and an address. In fairness to all, The Review requires both for publication of letters on the editorial page.

As pointed out before, such letters from our readers are more than welcome—especially constructive criticism. They should be under 500 words as a general rule. All will be judged on individual merit, particularly when more than one letter is received on the same subject.

But above all they must contain a signature and an address to assure publication.

Some Good Words Of Advice

Two youngsters were honored today as the "outstanding newsboys" in the state of Ohio.

They're ordinary boys who do the same things that all boys do — they take part in school activities, they enjoy music, they play basketball and join in the many other things that make up the everday life of our teenagers.

They differ in one way, however, from a great many youngsters — they have made the most of the opportunities that have been theirs. As newsboys, they have tried to be the best. With a look to their future education, they have invested their earnings wisely. Briefly, they have followed a program which can only be of benefit in later years.

One of the carriers explained his success this way: "Every subscriber appreciates prompt, dependable service. I have tried to base my service on this realization, believing that I should treat others as I would have them treat me. I only wish that all boys could have the same opportunity I have — that of being a newspaperboy. It has truly been one of the great experiences of my life."

These are sound words of advice for those who carry The Review and for youngsters in other lines of worthwhile endeavor. If taken to heart now, they will prove of incalculable value later in life.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Once upon a time there was a poor little rich girl who fell in love 100 per cent. She was a Juliet who couldn't wait for balcony scenes. Her romance was a fairy tale in which the good fairy seemed to be playing ice hockey in a pro league.

The girl had led a sheltered life and Fate had decreed that she might come to wish the shelters were underground and protected by Civil Defense workers. It was a romance that would need "USE NO HOOKS" signs.

Romeo was a chauffeur, which is an important consideration in modern traffic. Changing the oil every 2,000 miles is okay, but not changing wives. He seemed to regard matrimony as a seasonal occupation.

When she found he was married, Juliet was amazed and hurt. But love was not a passing mood with her. However, her folks had lawyers who "had brief cases and would travel."

She found her trans-Atlantic romance was turning into a clambake for attorneys, jurists, police escorts and cameramen. What she really needed was protection by the Marines, the Society for Minimum Privacy and all Advice to the Lovelorn writers.

It came to pass her romance got a bigger play than de Gaulle's Algerian crisis, Yogi Berra's contract routines and the isolation of the common cold germ by the British.

The public was with her because she reflected dignity and devotion and aroused in every woman the memory of at least one girlhood broken heart.

Union Sets White Collar Organizing

By Victor Riesel

There is a revealing and unreported letter from Walter Reuther in a file at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology — that center of electronic wizardry where they make toy machines which sing, speak and show most of the temperament of humans.

Victor Riesel

Reuther's letter is in the file of one of the wizards, Dr. Norbert Wiener, who first developed the theory that a machine could be built which would react like a human's nerve system.

Prof. Wiener, for whom the label genius is stoic understatement, then invented a word for the science of the thinking machine. This he called cybernetics — after the Greek word for helmsman or steersman.

It shows the similarity between the communication of the brain and nerve system of the animal and the communication of electronic impulses and nerve system of the machine such as the computer.

That was 13 years ago. Wiener then wrote to many labor leaders.

HE TOLD THEM, in effect, that every human being would be affected by the thinking machine. Not long afterwards, Dr. Wiener and I spoke.

He told me that given sufficient control a machine could reproduce itself. He used a word which now is quite the vogue—automation.

He was ignored by all but one union chief. That was Walter Reuther. The then comparatively new head of the Auto Union wanted to know all about this thinking machine and wanted to keep ahead of it.

Several weeks ago, Reuther set up a new central organization division which actually will close in on automation.

Cybernetics is here to stay. Within a few weeks his new organizing drive will be under way.

That was decided at a meeting of the Auto Union high command in its Solidarity House in Detroit late last month before Reuther headed for the AFL-CIO Executive Council session in Miami Beach.

From those who sat in on the Auto Union meetings, it is learned that the first new organizing targets are primarily on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. Then the drive will move inland.

You can't recognize the targets unless you get at some of the data whipped up by a group from the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Dept., which is headed by Reuther.

This group met in mid-January at Harvard University and reported that in 1947 there were 23½ million blue collar workers. They are the production workers on the assembly line, etc. There were 20 million white collar workers.

THE LATEST FIGURE shows that there are now some 25 million blue collar workers and well over 25½ million white collar people. This reveals the shift.

The report from Harvard said, "In the face of these labor force changes, the labor movement must break out of its 'blue collar shell' or face the prospect of becoming a declining numerical force.

Indeed, trade union membership in recent years has reached a plateau . . . Unless labor . . . accomplishes this objective (of organizing new white collar workers), it may face the prospect of some loss of social and political position in the country. . . ."

This becomes apparent when one learns that "engineers and technicians are employed to the extent of 4,000, 5,000, or 10,000 in one company." There are corporations which have "several thousand (such engineers) in the same work place."

This is the problem which now will be hit by the Auto Union's new organizing task force. At the coordinator's spot Reuther has placed his old friend, Brendon Sexton — the man who swung the key Willow Run local to Reuther in '46 to elect him president for the first time.

SEXTON WILL become one of Reuther's top aides now. Brother Roy Reuther is not well and plans to leave the union. Brother Victor Reuther is having considerable difficulty with the eye which was injured by hoodlums years ago.

There will be four deputies under Sexton — one charged with unionizing the office and professional field; one in aircraft and missiles; another in agricultural and foundry work and the last in what is called "competitive shops."

There won't be much fanfare. They're not seeking publicity. They're looking for members. We'll soon see who'll be the steersman, Reuther or the thinking machine.

Kennedy's Immaturity

By Raymond Moley

In a recent speech before that Washingtonian "House of Intellect," the National Press Club, Sen. John F. Kennedy reopened the old academic game of classifying presidents "strong" and "weak." There was plenty of quibbling on that subject before the senator saw the light of day. I started to teach political science in a university the year before Kennedy was born and my expositions were full of the accepted platitudes, which I regret. That was before I knew something about real presidents rather than presidents in books.

As examples of "strong" presidents Kennedy mentioned first Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Jackson, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt, Wilson, and Truman. This is the mythology prevalent in academic circles today.

I suspect the hand of certain academicians in the senator's speech. In any event, the theory runs parallel with the political historiology of Prof. Arthur Schlesinger Jr., biographer of Jackson and F.D.R.

MY SUSPICION is invigorated by the significant sentence: "He (the next president) must reopen the channels of communication between the world of thought and the seat of power."

If this means anything, it says that the turnpike should be opened between the senator's alma mater, Harvard, and the White House.

That highway was well traveled in the early days of F.D.R. That indefatigable recruiter of Harvard talent, Prof. Felix Frankfurter, commuted thereon. And loads of one-way riders moved from the "world of thought" to Washington. Many are still there. Two notable ones are brain-trusting Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

Perhaps there was a good reason for the omission of that incomparable table-thumper and chauvinist, James K. Polk, who was elected on the indefensible challenge to England, "54-40 or Fight."

If we had made good on that, and had England yielded, the United States would now have senators from the richest part of British Columbia. But having been elected, Polk turned South and in a war later denounced by Lincoln and Grant as unwarranted (Woodrow Wilson called it "inexcusable aggression"), tore away the greater part of Mexico.

Perhaps Kennedy's omission was due to the fact that Polk defeated a senator, Henry Clay, who was selected by Kennedy himself a few years ago as one of the five greatest. Clay's three defeats established the tradition that senators are not very good candidates for president.

THE FALLACY in this common classification of presidents as "strong" and "weak" is that it identifies noise, publicity, and table-thumping with achievement.

In this sophomoric category, William H. Taft and William McKinley ar called "weak."

But let us see:

McKinley was the gentlest and most patient of men. But his vision of American interests moved our defenses westward, first to Hawaii and then to a self-governing ally in the Phillipines.

He held off war with Spain until Congress was ready to declare, with or without presidential approval. But once over, his terms of peace provided for the protection of American interests to the South and Far East.

With his great secretary of state, through the "Open Door" policy, he prevented the partition of China by rapacious European powers. At home he restored the confidence which brought prosperity to farms and jobs to workers.

After nearly eight years of T.R.'s shouting about trusts and evil trusts and evil tarrifs, Taft had the courage to tackle the latter and really do something about the former.

His tariff bill made him unpopular with farmers, who never seem to be happy. And his quiet suits busted the Standard Oil and tobacco trusts.

He inherited a financially bankrupt reclamation mess which TR had loudly proclaimed as his greatest domestic achievement. And Taft, not TR was year later proved right in the controversy over Interior Secretary Ballinger.

Sen. Kennedy proves that a little knowledge of history is a dangerous thing.

Ike Sets Example

By David Lawrence

President Clarifies U. S. Defense Goals

There is something inspiring about the calm and dispassionate way that President Eisenhower deals with the alarmist talk that has been filling the headlines of late about the safety of the United States against Soviet attack.

David Lawrence

Mr. Eisenhower, in his delicate position, naturally cannot do any sabre-rattling. For the Soviets would criticize him as a "warmonger." Yet he must answer the criticism at home that comes from generals, as well as politicians, who think America is "losing the race" or failing to "catch up" on missiles, trips to the moon and various other endeavors in the field of science and exploration. The President said at his press conference on Wednesday:

"I am always a little bit amazed about this business of catching up. What you want is enough — a thing that is adequate. A 'deterrent' has no added power, once it has become completely adequate, for compelling the respect of any potential opponent for your 'deterrent' and, therefore, to make him act prudently."

This is but another way of saying that the United States has the military power today to destroy the Soviet Union and doesn't have to feel inferior because some other country may have more of certain types of weapons. It is the adequacy of our over-all power that Mr. Eisenhower explicitly reaffirms.

BUT, IT IS ASKED, how is it that Gen. Power of the Strategic Air Command can testify that, with 300 missiles, the Soviets can destroy our ability to fight back?

The answer to that is the one that the general himself gives — the "airborne alert."

This means that the United States would have in the air at all times enough manned bombers to deliver a destructive blow in retaliation, and the mere knowledge that this can happen is enough to deter the Russians from making the attack.

Gen. Power wants more money for the "airborne alert." He is sincere about it. He thinks this is essential.

But the President and his other military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, think that until a crisis is imminent — and it certainly doesn't seem to be for the next few months at least—the same money, about 750 million dollars, can be put into the development of missiles and the improvement of other weapons of warfare.

In fact, the President put it this way in his budget message to Congress recently:

"It is neither necessary nor practical to fly a continuous airborne alert at this time. Such a procedure would, over a relatively short period of time, seriously degrade our over-all capability to respond to attack.

"What I am recommending is a capability to fly such an alert if the need should arise and to maintain that alert for a reasonable period of time, until the situation which necessitated it becomes clarified."

But a general naturally isn't satisfied with this. It's his business to keep his defenses up. The civilian side, however, takes what are called "calculated risks."

IT MEANS that in this era of Soviet policy the belief is that Moscow will not take a chance on a nuclear blow at the United States, for the Soviet Union would have to face manned bombers from European bases as well as missiles from naval vessels, and the Russians would not wish to risk such destruction.

"I don't believe," said the President on Wednesday, "that anyone today can destroy all of our capabilities for retaliation and they cannot destroy today enough of them that we couldn't retaliate very effectively to the point of destructiveness to them."

As for the so-called "psychological" aspect — the widespread belief that America might be forced into a posture of "second best"—Mr. Eisenhower says that in certain things the Soviet Union will continue to be first and America will be second.

He cited the Olympics as something that the Soviet Union won, even though it had to resort to professionalism in sports and virtually make the athletes a part of the government personnel.

Naturally, the Soviets would win such contests but, as the President puts it, "what did we do with that?" Nobody has lost much sleep over that defeat.

AS FOR TRIPS to the moon and various planets, what is important is whether any military knowledge is gained by such stunts. This is carefully studied by the United States, whose experts in science are constantly at work on the same problem.

But, as the President explains it, the United States isn't going to alter its system of life and abandon individual freedoms and enslave people as they do in Russia, just to win first place in certain contests.

Mr. Eisenhower concedes that there are disturbing headlines arising out of such things as "hitting the moon," and that often an interpretation is given "far beyond its true meaning." He adds:

"I've heard people say: 'Well, soon there'll be colonies on the moon and they'll be shooting at the earth from the moon.' I saw that in one story. Well, this is long after you and I will be gone. That I'll assure you."

So the President pointed out that the things "we should think about and talk about more in the world are the values which we do treasure."

It's all a matter of proportion and perspective but the basic fact is that the American defense system is up to date and progressing and that it has the power to deter a potential enemy from attack by being able to inflict counter-blows of massive retaliation.

What About The Allies?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

While President Eisenhower's policy of calmness under stress has been able to keep the American people cool, it doesn't follow that his attitude will always have the same effect on allies and neutrals.

For example, he has been continually calm on the question of American defense against the Soviet Union. He also has always pursued a policy of avoiding extreme statements.

His two policies fused this week when he was asked to comment on criticism that American military strength was dangerously lagging behind the Soviets.

"I am always a little bit amazed about this business of catching up," he told his news conference. "What you want is enough, a thing that is adequate.

"A deterrent has no added power, once it has become completely adequate for compelling respect of any potential opponent for your future deterrent and therefore to make him act prudently."

This explained why, despite criticism, particularly from the Democrats, Eisenhower has refused to pump as much money into defense speedups as some of his administration's critics consider necessary.

What he said could be put another way: Why try to build up an armament whose only usefulness is to impress people with its size when it isn't size that counts but the adequacy of the defense you actually have?

This attitude indicates, as much as anything Eisenhower has said since becoming President, the apparent self-confidence he has in the judgment of himself and his aides, at least in military matters.

Nevertheless, there is one possibility which the twin Eisenhower policy of calmness and unexaggerated statement may not be able to anticipate because it applies strictly to American ability to defend itself against the Soviet Union.

It's this:

What will be the effect on American allies and neutrals if the Soviets continue to build up a gigantic arsenal, plus the kind of "fantastic" new weapons Premier Nikita Khrushchev said is in the works?

Will Soviet accomplishments have a discouraging effect on allies and neutrals—much closer to the Soviet Union than this country—since they can't equip themselves with the kind of defense America can erect?

And will a Soviet armament, if it's much bigger and more glittering than this country's, persuade others that the Soviet Union has outstripped America as a nation and world power?

Perhaps Eisenhower has taken into consideration this kind of answer to the questions just raised: If American defense against the Soviet Union is adequate to prevent a Soviet attack, since it would in effect be a worldwide defense, it would be just as much a protection for the allies as for America.

Meanwhile, of course, the military front is not the only one on which the cold war in the years ahead will be fought.

For instance, this country will probably step up its aid to other nations, particularly neutrals like India, to stiffen their backbone and put them in the American camp, granted American and Soviet power come down to being equal in necessary power even though different in size.

U.S. investments in Cuban agriculture and industry are doomed by policies of the Castro regime. Gulf Oil Corp. announced early last month it would quit exploring for oil. Stockholders of West Indies Sugar Corp. are voting on a plan to put their Cuban operation on the shelf.

There was no special surprise in the Castro government's decision to expropriate property; that move had been a long time in the making. It had its origin in the over-exploitation of Cuba by foreign investors who failed to understand the explosive resentment being piled up against the Batista type of rule by force.

What is signing off uotside investor interest in Cuba is its failure to provide assured compensation for appropriated property values. This is a special kind of hostility to private enterprise that is overjoying Cuban Communists and their associated conspirators in other Latin American countries. Their principal aim is to discredit private enterprises, in preparation for their bid to take over Latin America.

It must be noted in this connection that Cuban Communists do not consider Castro to be a sympathizer. Gen. C. P. Cabell USAF, deputy director of Central Intelligence Agency, put it this way in recent testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee:

"Our information shows that the Cuban Communists do not consider (Fidel Castro) a Community party member, or even a pro-Communist. On the other hand, they are delighted with the nature of his government, which has allowed the Communists opportunity—free opportunity—to organize, to propagandize and infiltrate . . . The Communist viewpoint is that (Castro) presents leadership of a nationalistic, burgois-democratic revolution which precedes a Communist rise to power."

There is no need to waste time arguing about the possibility that Fidel Castro might be a Communist. It doesn't matter whether he is a Communist or not, as long as he serves Communism's aim, which is to destroy private enterprise. Only then is created the vacuum into which political absolutists rush with their reactionary credo that they alone are capable of running everything.

Voting Comes Next

The voters will have their work cut out for them in the May 3 primaries, with 70 candidates from both the Republican and Democratic parties filing for district and county offices.

The Democrats have 11 candidates for district offices and 27 for county posts; the Republicans 9 and 23 for similar positions.

Offices at stake are Congress, state representative, state Senate and these county posts — probate judge, clerk of courts, commissioner, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer, coroner, sheriff and recorder. There will not be races for all positions in May, however, some candidates being unopposed.

By their very numbers, the candidates have displayed an interest in state and county government. It's up to the electorate to do likewise.

Now is the time to begin analyzing those who are seeking the various offices, not a day or two before the voting. The primaries are important. From those chosen in May will come the eventual winners in the fall election.

Somebody's Word For It

We can be as impressed by a contrary opinion as anyone else. But when the professional military brass snipe at their commander-in-chief over budget decisions, it never fails to seem perfectly clear to us that this is one time for the brass to show a sense of proportion and shut up.

The chief executive stands between them and the people who put up the money for defense. It is his job to make tough decisions about the budget, military and otherwise. It is not his job to win a popularity contest with the hotly competing branches of the military services. There never was enough money to make all their chiefs happy.

It also is the President's job to conduct the foreign policy of the United States and to play a leading part in keeping the right image of the United States in focus in foreign capitals whose slippery politicians are maneuvering for position in the race between Washington and Moscow.

Furthermore, it is the President's job to keep an eye on the soundness of the currency, which entails doing what scarcely anyone in the spending end of public finances ever thinks of doing any more; namely, balancing outgo and income.

All these things enter into Presidential decisions about the military budget. Only one thing enters into the professional militarists' contrary opinions. They aim to get as much as they think they can use, plus a margin for waste and error. Perhaps this is the way it must be, but it always has the effect of making it appear that the White House is being niggardly, wrong-headed and short sighted if it opposes them.

When 41 billion dollars in an 80-billion-dollar budget have been proposed for defense, the White House is not being niggardly. Contrary to the military snipers and their political coat-holders, we do not think President Eisenhower is being wrong-headed or shortsighted when he tells his former fellow officers in effect to shut up and let him do the talking about defense policy.

As we said at the beginning, we can be impressed with a contrary opinion, but in this instance we have no choice but to take the word of the commander-in-chief that the money is going to be split up equitably. He alone is responsible for taking everything into consideration. He alone must try to grind all the axes, whereas his critics grind only one—their own.

Sign Them, Please!

Thursday's mail brought a letter which supported The Review policy on the situation in Hancock County.

It was postmarked "Chester" and signed an "Outraged Citizen". It was highly critical of things across the river. Unfortunately, from our point of view, it failed to carry a signature and an address. In fairness to all, The Review requires both for publication of letters on the editorial page.

As pointed out before, such letters from our readers are more than welcome—especially constructive criticism. They should be under 500 words as a general rule. All will be judged on individual merit, particularly when more than one letter is received on the same subject.

But above all they must contain a signature and an address to assure publication.

Some Good Words Of Advice

Two youngsters were honored today as the "outstanding newsboys" in the state of Ohio.

They're ordinary boys who do the same things that all boys do — they take part in school activities, they enjoy music, they play basketball and join in the many other things that make up the everday life of our teenagers.

They differ in one way, however, from a great many youngsters — they have made the most of the opportunities that have been theirs. As newsboys, they have tried to be the best. With a look to their future education, they have invested their earnings wisely. Briefly, they have followed a program which can only be of benefit in later years.

One of the carriers explained his success this way: "Every subscriber appreciates prompt, dependable service. I have tried to base my service on this realization, believing that I should treat others as I would have them treat me. I only wish that all boys could have the same opportunity I have — that of being a newspaperboy. It has truly been one of the great experiences of my life."

These are sound words of advice for those who carry The Review and for youngsters in other lines of worthwhile endeavor. If taken to heart now, they will prove of incalculable value later in life.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Once upon a time there was a poor little rich girl who fell in love 100 per cent. She was a Juliet who couldn't wait for balcony scenes. Her romance was a fairy tale in which the good fairy seemed to be playing ice hockey in a pro league.

The girl had led a sheltered life and Fate had decreed that she might come to wish the shelters were underground and protected by Civil Defense workers. It was a romance that would need "USE NO HOOKS" signs.

Romeo was a chauffeur, which is an important consideration in modern traffic. Changing the oil every 2,000 miles is okay, but not changing wives. He seemed to regard matrimony as a seasonal occupation.

When she found he was married, Juliet was amazed and hurt. But love was not a passing mood with her. However, her folks had lawyers who "had brief cases and would travel."

She found her trans-Atlantic romance was turning into a clambake for attorneys, jurists, police escorts and cameramen. What she really needed was protection by the Marines, the Society for Minimum Privacy and all Advice to the Lovelorn writers.

It came to pass her romance got a bigger play than de Gaulle's Algerian crisis, Yogi Berra's contract routines and the isolation of the common cold germ by the British.

The public was with her because she reflected dignity and devotion and aroused in every woman the memory of at least one girlhood broken heart.

People were so sympathetic they could stop analyzing Romeo's age, habits, marriage status and persistence. But they didn't know just what to do, so they said "Let's play it in the Rose Bowl."

The public was willing to get switched from winter baseball deals, Fidel Castro, Sen. Symington's "All Is Lost" speeches and all threats to civilization.

Everybody who hates to see a turtle dove in a roller-derby felt sorry for the girl but all they could do was rush for the papers to see how she was doing and wish her well.

Moral? There are times when falling in love without a circus net can be dangerous for any girl, troublesome for the courts and a terrific strain on the cops trying to keep a crowd moving.

But let us see:

McKinley was the gentlest and most patient of men. But his vision of American interests moved our defenses westward, first to Hawaii and then to a self-governing ally in the Phillipines.

He held off war with Spain until Congress was ready to declare, with or without presidential approval. But once over, his terms of peace provided for the protection of American interests to the South and Far East.

With his great secretary of state, through the "Open Door" policy, he prevented the partition of China by rapacious European powers. At home he restored the confidence which brought prosperity to farms and jobs to workers.

After nearly eight years of T.R.'s shouting about trusts and evil trusts and evil tarrifs, Taft had the courage to tackle the latter and really do something about the former.

His tariff bill made him unpopular with farmers, who never seem to be happy. And his quiet suits busted the Standard Oil and tobacco trusts.

He inherited a financially bankrupt reclamation mess which TR had loudly proclaimed as his greatest domestic achievement. And Taft, not TR was year later proved right in the controversy over Interior Secretary Ballinger.

Sen. Kennedy proves that a little knowledge of history is a dangerous thing.

Ike Sets Example

By David Lawrence

President Clarifies U. S. Defense Goals

There is something inspiring about the calm and dispassionate way that President Eisenhower deals with the alarmist talk that has been filling the headlines of late about the safety of the United States against Soviet attack.

David Lawrence

Mr. Eisenhower, in his delicate position, naturally cannot do any saber-rattling. For the Soviets would criticize him as a "warmonger." Yet he must answer the criticism at home that comes from generals, as well as politicians, who think America is "losing the race" or failing to "catch up" on missiles, trips to the moon and various other endeavors in the field of science and exploration. The President said at his press conference on Wednesday:

"I am always a little bit amazed about this business of catching up. What you want is enough — a thing that is adequate. A 'deterrent' has no added power, once it has become completely adequate, for compelling the respect of any potential opponent for your 'deterrent' and, therefore, to make him act prudently."

This is but another way of saying that the United States has the military power today to destroy the Soviet Union and doesn't have to feel inferior because some other country may have more of certain types of weapons. It is the adequacy of our over-all power that Mr. Eisenhower explicitly reaffirms.

BUT, IT IS ASKED, how is it that Gen. Power of the Strategic Air Command can testify that, with 300 missiles, the Soviets can destroy our ability to fight back?

The answer to that is the one that the general himself gives — the "airborne alert."

This means that the United States would have in the air at all times enough manned bombers to deliver a destructive blow in retaliation, and the mere knowledge that this can happen is enough to deter the Russians from making the attack.

Gen. Power wants more money for the "airborne alert." He is sincere about it. He thinks this is essential.

But the President and his other military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, think that until a crisis is imminent — and it certainly doesn't seem to be for the next few months at least—the same money, about 750 million dollars, can be put into the development of missiles and the improvement of other weapons of warfare.

In fact, the President put it this way in his budget message to Congress recently:

"It is neither necessary nor practical to fly a continuous airborne alert at this time. Such a procedure would, over a relatively short period of time, seriously degrade our over-all capability to respond to attack.

"What I am recommending is a capability to fly such an alert if the need should arise and to maintain that alert for a reasonable period of time, until the situation which necessitated it becomes clarified."

But a general naturally isn't satisfied with this. It's his business to keep his defenses up. The civilian side, however, takes what are called "calculated risks."

IT MEANS that in this era of Soviet policy the belief is that Moscow will not take a chance on a nuclear blow at the United States, for the Soviet Union would have to face manned bombers from European bases as well as missiles from naval vessels, and the Russians would not wish to risk such destruction.

"I don't believe," said the President on Wednesday, "that anyone today can destroy all of our capabilities for retaliation and they cannot destroy today enough of them that we couldn't retaliate very effectively to the point of destructiveness to them."

As for the so-called "psychological" aspect — the widespread belief that America might be forced into a posture of "second best"—Mr. Eisenhower says that in certain things the Soviet Union will continue to be first and America will be second.

He cited the Olympics as something that the Soviet Union won, even though it had to resort to professionalism in sports and virtually make the athletes a part of the government personnel.

Naturally, the Soviets would win such contests but, as the President puts it, "what did we do with that?" Nobody has lost much sleep over that defeat.

AS FOR TRIPS to the moon and various planets, what is important is whether any military knowledge is gained by such stunts. This is carefully studied by the United States, whose experts in science are constantly at work on the same problem.

But, as the President explains it, the United States isn't going to alter its system of life and abandon individual freedoms and enslave people as they do in Russia, just to win first place in certain contests.

Mr. Eisenhower concedes that there are disturbing headlines arising out of such things as "hitting the moon," and that often an interpretation is given "far beyond its true meaning." He adds:

"I've heard people say: 'Well, soon there'll be colonies on the moon and they'll be shooting at the earth from the moon.' I saw that in one story. Well, this is long after you and I will be gone. That I'll assure you."

So the President pointed out that the things "we should think about and talk about more in the world are the values which we do treasure."

It's all a matter of proportion and perspective but the basic fact is that the American defense system is up to date and progressing and that it has the power to deter a potential enemy from attack by being able to inflict counter-blows of massive retaliation.

What About The Allies?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

While President Eisenhower's policy of calmness under stress has been able to keep the American people cool, it doesn't follow that his attitude will always have the same effect on allies and neutrals.

For example, he has been continually calm on the question of American defense against the Soviet Union. He also has always pursued a policy of avoiding extreme statements.

His two policies fused this week when he was asked to comment on criticism that American military strength was dangerously lagging behind the Soviets.

"I am always a little bit amazed about this business of catching up," he told his news conference. "What you want is enough, a thing that is adequate.

"A deterrent has no added power, once it has become completely adequate for compelling respect of any potential opponent for your future deterrent and therefore to make him act prudently."

This explained why, despite criticism, particularly from the Democrats, Eisenhower has refused to pump as much money into defense speedups as some of his administration's critics consider necessary.

What he said could be put another way: Why try to build up an armament whose only usefulness is to impress people with its size when it isn't size that counts but the adequacy of the defense you actually have?

This attitude indicates, as much as anything Eisenhower has said since becoming President, the apparent self-confidence he has in the judgment of himself and his aides, at least in military matters.

Nevertheless, there is one possibility which the twin Eisenhower policy of calmness and unexaggerated statement may not be able to anticipate because it applies strictly to American ability to defend itself against the Soviet Union.

It's this:

What will be the effect on American allies and neutrals if the Soviets continue to build up a gigantic arsenal, plus the kind of "fantastic" new weapons Premier Nikita Khrushchev said is in the works?

Will Soviet accomplishments have a discouraging effect on allies and neutrals—much closer to the Soviet Union than this country—since they can't equip themselves with the kind of defense America can erect?

And will a Soviet armament, if it's much bigger and more glittering than this country's, persuade others that the Soviet Union has outstripped America as a nation and world power?

Perhaps Eisenhower has taken into consideration this kind of answer to the questions just raised: If American defense against the Soviet Union is adequate to prevent a Soviet attack, since it would in effect be a worldwide defense, it would be just as much a protection for the allies as for America.

Meanwhile, of course, the military front is not the only one on which the cold war in the years ahead will be fought.

For instance, this country will probably step up its aid to other nations, particularly neutrals like India, to stiffen their backbone and put them in the American camp, granted American and Soviet power come down to being equal in necessary power even though different in size.

Kennedy Starts New Term

Well-Defined Task Lies Ahead, Says BRT's Head

CLEVELAND (AP)—"We have a well-defined task ahead of us," said William P. Kennedy, who at 67 is starting another term as president of the 200,000-member Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Kennedy, who beat back an effort at dislodging him from the presidency he has held since 1949, said at the brotherhood's convention here Thursday night:

"The current wage movement must be brought to a conclusion must be brought to a conclusion so our members may enjoy a just reward for their always increasing productivity in this age of automation.

"The rules movement, complicated by a vicious attack by the railroads of the nation on their loyal workers, must be brought to a successful conclusion as well."

W. J. Weil, 51-year-old general secretary-treasurer of the union since 1954, spearheaded a campaign to unseat Kennedy and in the process lost his own job. Weil had argued that younger and more militant and aggressive leadership was needed in the BRT.

Kennedy, who is from Minneapolis, beat Weil 641 to 464 for the presidency, and Charles Luna, 53, of Dallas, then beat Weil for assistant president, 602-494.

Under a newly adopted rule, fixing age limits for officers, Kennedy must retire at the end of 1962, and Luna will move up to the presidency for the final year of the four-year term.

W. E. B. Chase of Livonia, Mich., handed Weil his third defeat Thursday, winning the secretary-treasurer job, 585-523.

Luna and Chase both were vice presidents.

If any condition concerning the sale is not settled by March 31, the sale will not be considered as complete.

Applications for payment under the 1959 program must be filed with the county Agricultural Stazation and Conservation offices not later than April 30. Columbiana's is at Lisbon, Hancock's at New Cumberland and Beaver's at Beaver.

Rogers To Seek Congress Backing On Court Arbiters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers attempts today to rally support in Congress for the administration's plan for federal court referees to protect Negro voting rights.

Rogers is the final witness scheduled by the Senate Rules Committee for its hearings on legislation designed to strengthen existing laws against racial discrimination in voting.

The administration measure was outlined by Rogers at a news conference last week. He proposed it as a substitute for a plan recommended by the Civil Rights Commission last September for federal voting registrars.

Under the commission's plan, registrars would be appointed by the president. They would register persons qualified under state law in areas from which sworn complaints were received that Negroes had been denied the right to register because of their race.

The plan for court - appointed referees goes beyond this in that they would be empowered to oversee voting and vote-counting as well as registration in both state and federal elections.

米壽申

Legend has it that Chinese doctors used to be paid only while their patients were healthy, got no fee during illness. It almost sounds reasonable. In fact, there are physicians today who specialize in keeping their patients healthy. Preventive medicine, it's called. All doctors practice it as much as they can. If you get regular checkups, your doctor has a chance to keep you from getting sick. Modern drugs play a large part in this practice, and that's where we pharmacists come in. But only you can make preventive medicine work—by getting into the habit of regular checkups. It's a very good idea.

How the Chinese do it

米 壽 申

Legend has it that Chinese doctors used to be paid only while their patients were healthy, got no fee during illness. It almost sounds reasonable. In fact, there are physicians today who specialize in keeping their patients healthy. Preventive medicine, it's called. All doctors practice it as much as they can. If you get regular checkups, your doctor has a chance to keep you from getting sick. Modern drugs play a large part in this practice, and that's where we pharmacists come in. But only you can make preventive medicine work—by getting into the habit of regular checkups. It's a very good idea.

Ohio Penitentiary inmates already have finished some of the half-million license plates which boaters will affix to their craft.

Burglaries

entirely in property damage, as the amount of money the thieves obtained probably was very small.

The machines were used to make change for persons using the self-service laundry. One dispensed 5 dimes for a 50-cent piece and the other discharged 2 dimes and a nickel when a 25-cent piece was inserted.

The cash loss from the cigarette machine also probably was small, as it was installed only three days earlier by the Veterans Vending Service. The thieves may have been frightened as they gathered up their loot, as packs of cigarettes from the rifled machine were scattered on the floor.

The crime could not be classed as a burglary, as the business place is open 24 hours a day and there was no need for a forcible entry, police explained.

Patrolman Paul Carter said he checked the premises at 5 a. m. and found everything in order. A news boy discovered the theft at 6:45 and reported to police.

Meanwhile, the theft of a three-speed stereophonic tape recorder from a delivery truck was reported to police Thursday. A driver for the All-Ohio Express Co. of Akron told officers the tape recorder was taken by a sneak thief about 10:15 a. m. while the truck was parked in Diamond Alley. He said he does not know the value of the machine.

200 Boat Registration Outlets In Ohio Seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James D. Wells, acting administrator of the State Division of Watercraft, expects between 200 and 250 boat registration outlets to be established by the end of the month.

Wells said he has received about 250 applications already. Bona fide marine dealers and some auto club representatives will handle some of the registration.

"They only make a quarter on each one, so nobody's going to get rich," Wells said.

Ohio Penitentiary inmates already have finished some of the half-million license plates which boaters will affix to their craft.

entirely in property damage, as the amount of money the thieves obtained probably was very small.

The machines were used to make change for persons using the self-service laundry. One dispensed 5 dimes for a 50-cent piece and the other discharged 2 dimes and a nickel when a 25-cent piece was inserted.

The cash loss from the cigarette machine also probably was small, as it was installed only three days earlier by the Veterans Vending Service. The thieves may have been frightened as they gathered up their loot, as packs of cigarettes from the rifled machine were scattered on the floor.

The crime could not be classed as a burglary, as the business place is open 24 hours a day and there was no need for a forcible entry, police explained.

Patrolman Paul Carter said he checked the premises at 5 a. m. and found everything in order. A news boy discovered the theft at 6:45 and reported to police.

Meanwhile, the theft of a three-speed stereophonic tape recorder from a delivery truck was reported to police Thursday. A driver for the All-Ohio Express Co. of Akron told officers the tape recorder was taken by a sneak thief about 10:15 a. m. while the truck was parked in Diamond Alley. He said he does not know the value of the machine.

Finch Murder Trial Nearing Crisis Stage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The story Dr. R. Bernard Finch hopes will save his life today was near the point of crisis—where he tries to show his wife's death was not murder but mishap.

His attorney already has outlined the defense. And the doctor has detailed his flight into adultery from a marriage he said was frustrated by frigidity. But he still has to give his own version of how Barbara Jean Finch was shot to death outside their luxurious suburban home last July 18.

The 42-year-old physician, trying to counter the state's accusations, is to testify the gun that killed his wife was one she drew herself. He has denied the state's charge that he hired a man to kill her, claiming instead that the man was paid to get evidence that could be used against her in her divorce suit.

Several women jurors couldn't keep from frowning Thursday when the physician testified that he tried twice unsuccessfully to hire someone who could follow Mrs. Finch in hopes of "getting something on her."

Finally, he said, he and Carole Tregoff — his medical secretary, then his paramour, and now his co-defendant — found someone they thought could "do the job."

The doctor testified that Carole said Jack Cody told her that he'd get the information for us "if he had to sleep with her himself and then go to court and testify."

Jack Cody testified for the state that Carole and Finch hired him not as a gigolo but as a murderer—to kill Mrs. Finch. He said he took money but had no intention of murdering her.

But Finch firmly denied the charge for which he is on trial for his life: That he plotted to kill Mrs. Finch so he wouldn't have to share with her community property she estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Finch's attorneys said the doctor will explain that Mrs. Finch, 36, suffered injuries struggling with her estranged mate for a pistol—and that she was shot to death accidentally.

New Library Novels Concern Adjustments To Old World

Two outstanding novels on the new bookshelf at the Carnegie Public Library concern Americans adjusting to the Old World society of Europe.

Marcia Davenport, who originally gained success with her novel of Pittsburgh, "Valley of Decision," has a new title, "The Constant Image." A young woman, Harriet Piers, finds herself caught in the web of a wealthy, cultivated society in Milan. Her presence is deeply resented by the Italian women.

Kay Boyle depicts Americans through the eyes of a German newspaperman. There is artistry and human warmth in this story of the romances of an American military commander's daughter. The title is "Generation Without Farewell."

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said archeology fans should take heart for there are a half dozen new volumes which use ancient civilizations as a springboard to excitement.

Basil Davidson explodes the myth that the dark continent is lacking in civilized past in "Lost Cities of Africa." America's foremost Arabian authority is Wendell Phillips. The ancient Biblical spice routes are the subject of his "Quataban and Sheba." Robert Graves has translated an entirely new version of the famous Greek epic, Homer's Illiad, in "The Anger of Achilles."

The library has just acquired a work of general archeology written by a Harvard professor a few years back. "Back of History" will be expecially helpful to young folks who want an introduction to the subject. A novel based on the early founding of Rome is Alfred Duggan's "Children of the Wolf."

A pair of new biographies shows vividly the problems of the blind. Genevieve Caulfield, blind from childhood, left her comfortable American home to teach in Japanese missions. Her experiences are recounted in "The Kingdom Within." A Danish boy who had partial sight learned to play the organ and to enjoy the excitements of poetry and art describes his final emergence into the world of the sightless in "The Good Light."

Erle Stanley Gardner leads the new mysteries this week with his 100th detective confection, "The Case of the Waylaid Wolf." Two new Crime Club arrivals also promise some eerie moments — "The Country of the Strangers," by Frances Shelley Wees, and "The Swan Song," by Helen Robertson.

A duo of biographies about musicians will prove enlightening. Famous for his scores for "High Noon" and "The High and the Mighty," Dimitri Tiomkin relates his colorful career in "Please Don't Hate Me." Five years of research went into the writing of "Beethoven's Beloved." The author is Dana Steichen, who died before his work was published.

2 Men Jailed In Bank Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 70-year-old ex-convict and his 23-year-old companion are in jail here today pending an FBI probe into Thursday's bank robbery at Sedalia in Madison County.

The two, David J. Branhan, 70, of Bellefontaine, and William J. Kerns, 23, of Rushsylvania (Logan County), were nabbed near South Solon (Madison County) by the highway patrol about an hour after the robbery.

In the holdup, bank cashier Kenneth Dorn said an elderly man pulled a gun and fled with $1,150. Dorn said the man had been asking about a real estate loan.

Officials said the two put up no fight when arrested and were carrying $1,149.

Kerns had no previous police record, authorities said. Branhan, however, served time in Ohio Penitentiary for robbery from 1933 to 1950. He also had been at London Prison farm from where he escaped in 1939 but was captured.

Officials said Kerns told them he didn't know Branhan was going to rob the bank. Branhan also said Kerns didn't know it.

The chase was aided by a description of the getaway car from a man who lives across the street from the bank.

It was the third Ohio bank robbery in a week. The other two were at Piketon and Morrow and in both cases the robbers were captured.

Man Loses Right Leg Despite Doctors Efforts

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Billy Smith was resigned today to the loss of his right leg.

He was in good condition at Eden Hospital. The leg was amputated Wednesday night after doctors tried for seven months to save it.

The leg was almost torn off last July 3 when a crane crushed it against a wall at a construction job. More than a dozen operations were performed. But a deep infection developed in the bone and knee joint and the main nerve was no longer repairable.

Smith, 26, said "I'm sorry it couldn't have been saved but I can't really say I expected them to."

Local 141 Slates Vote On IBOP Building Plan

Local Union 141, oddmen and laborers, is scheduled to vote at a meeting Thursday night on a resolution requesting a referendum on plans to erect a new headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The local's official notice of the vote was published Thursday in the Potters Herald, union newspaper, explaining there will be a secret ballot "on a resolution to nullify a building approved by the delegates at the 1959 convention in Montreal. . . ."

Opponents of the plan to erect a headquarters on Route 7 near Williamsport have sought to force a referendum via resolutions enacted by local unions.

Budget Bureau Ties Up Funds For GI Supplies, General Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Much of the special additional funds voted by Congress to provide new equipment for American soldiers has been tied up by the Budget Bureau or has been used to help allies, says Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee and Space Committee Thursday that Army modernization is one of his principal problems.

Lemnitzer said part of the $386,200,000 appropriation was used to assist allies and 175 million dollars were placed in reserve by the Budget Bureau to meet "future contingencies."

President Eisenhower's new budget provides about 1½ billion dollars to continue the Army's modernization program at its present rate. The Army originally tried to get five billion dollars a year for three years for modernization.

Lemnitzer differed with some of the opinions expressed to the committee earlier in the day by Gen. Maxwell Taylor. Taylor, now retired, was Lemnitzer's predecessor as Army commander.

Taylor said the Joint Chiefs of Staff should be replaced by a single chief of staff. Lemnitzer said the JCS is "the proper organization for this country."

Lemnitzer said he agreed with the concept of an around-the-clock airborne alert for Strategic Air Command bombers, but said he was opposed to such a precaution "under the current circumstances and the situation as it exists today."

Finch Murder Trial Nearing Crisis Stage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The story Dr. R. Bernard Finch hopes will save his life today was near the point of crisis—where he tries to show his wife's death was not murder but mishap.

His attorney already has outlined the defense. And the doctor has detailed his flight into adultery from a marriage he said was frustrated by frigidity. But he still has to give his own version of how Barbara Jean Finch was shot to death outside their luxurious suburban home last July 18.

The 42-year-old physician, trying to counter the state's accusations, is to testify the gun that killed his wife was one she drew herself. He has denied the state's charge that he hired a man to kill her, claiming instead that the man was paid to get evidence that could be used against her in her divorce suit.

Several women jurors couldn't keep from frowning Thursday when the physician testified that he tried twice unsuccessfully to hire someone who could follow Mrs. Finch in hopes of "getting something on her."

Finally, he said, he and Carole Tregoff — his medical secretary, then his paramour, and now his co-defendant — found someone they thought could "do the job."

The doctor testified that Carole said Jack Cody told her that he'd get the information for us "if he had to sleep with her himself and then go to court and testify."

Jack Cody testified for the state that Carole and Finch hired him not as a gigolo but as a murderer—to kill Mrs. Finch. He said he took money but had no intention of murdering her.

But Finch firmly denied the charge for which he is on trial for his life: That he plotted to kill Mrs. Finch so he wouldn't have to share with her community property she estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Finch's attorneys said the doctor will explain that Mrs. Finch, 36, suffered injuries struggling with her estranged mate for a pistol—and that she was shot to death accidentally.

New Library Novels Concern Adjustments To Old World

Two outstanding novels on the new bookshelf at the Carnegie Public Library concern Americans adjusting to the Old World society of Europe.

Marcia Davenport, who originally gained success with her novel of Pittsburgh, "Valley of Decision," has a new title, "The Constant Image." A young woman, Harriet Piers, finds herself caught in the web of a wealthy, cultivated society in Milan. Her presence is deeply resented by the Italian women.

Kay Boyle depicts Americans through the eyes of a German newspaperman. There is artistry and human warmth in this story of the romances of an American military commander's daughter. The title is "Generation Without Farewell."

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said archeology fans should take heart for there are a half dozen new volumes which use ancient civilizations as a springboard to excitement.

Basil Davidson explodes the myth that the dark continent is lacking in civilized past in "Lost Cities of Africa." America's foremost Arabian authority is Wendell Phillips. The ancient Biblical spice routes are the subject of his "Quataban and Sheba." Robert Graves has translated an entirely new version of the famous Greek epic, Homer's Illiad, in "The Anger of Achilles."

The library has just acquired a work of general archeology written by a Harvard professor a few years back. "Back of History" will be expecially helpful to young folks who want an introduction to the subject. A novel based on the early founding of Rome is Alfred Duggan's "Children of the Wolf."

A pair of new biographies shows vividly the problems of the blind. Genevieve Caulfield, blind from childhood, left her comfortable American home to teach in Japanese missions. Her experiences are recounted in "The Kingdom Within." A Danish boy who had partial sight learned to play the organ and to enjoy the excitements of poetry and art describes his final emergence into the world of the sightless in "The Good Light."

Erle Stanley Gardner leads the new mysteries this week with his 100th detective confection, "The Case of the Waylaid Wolf." Two new Crime Club arrivals also promise some eerie moments — "The Country of the Strangers," by Frances Shelley Wees, and "The Swan Song," by Helen Robertson.

A duo of biographies about musicians will prove enlightening. Famous for his scores for "High Noon" and "The High and the Mighty," Dimitri Tiomkin relates his colorful career in "Please Don't Hate Me." Five years of research went into the writing of "Beethoven's Beloved." The author is Dana Steichen, who died before his work was published.

2 Men Jailed In Bank Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 70-year-old ex-convict and his 23-year-old companion are in jail here today pending an FBI probe into Thursday's bank robbery at Sedalia in Madison County.

The two, David J. Branhan, 70, of Bellefontaine, and William J. Kerns, 23, of Rushsylvania (Logan County), were nabbed near South Solon (Madison County) by the highway patrol about an hour after the robbery.

In the holdup, bank cashier Kenneth Dorn said an elderly man pulled a gun and fled with $1,150. Dorn said the man had been asking about a real estate loan.

Officials said the two put up no fight when arrested and were carrying $1,149.

Kerns had no previous police record, authorities said. Branhan, however, served time in Ohio Penitentiary for robbery from 1933 to 1950. He also had been at London Prison farm from where he escaped in 1939 but was captured.

Officials said Kerns told them he didn't know Branhan was going to rob the bank. Branhan also said Kerns didn't know it.

The chase was aided by a description of the getaway car from a man who lives across the street from the bank.

It was the third Ohio bank robbery in a week. The other two were at Piketon and Morrow and in both cases the robbers were captured.

Man Loses Right Leg Despite Doctors Efforts

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Billy Smith was resigned today to the loss of his right leg.

He was in good condition at Eden Hospital. The leg was amputated Wednesday night after doctors tried for seven months to save it.

The leg was almost torn off last July 3 when a crane crushed it against a wall at a construction job. More than a dozen operations were performed. But a deep infection developed in the bone and knee joint and the main nerve was no longer repairable.

Smith, 26, said "I'm sorry it couldn't have been saved but I can't really say I expected them to."

Local 141 Slates Vote On IBOP Building Plan

Local Union 141, oddmen and laborers, is scheduled to vote at a meeting Thursday night on a resolution requesting a referendum on plans to erect a new headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The local's official notice of the vote was published Thursday in the Potters Herald, union newspaper, explaining there will be a secret ballot "on a resolution to nullify a building approved by the delegates at the 1959 convention in Montreal. . . ."

Opponents of the plan to erect a headquarters on Route 7 near Williamsport have sought to force a referendum via resolutions enacted by local unions.

Budget Bureau Ties Up Funds For GI Supplies, General Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Much of the special additional funds voted by Congress to provide new equipment for American soldiers has been tied up by the Budget Bureau or has been used to help allies, says Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee and Space Committee Thursday that Army modernization is one of his principal problems.

Lemnitzer said part of the $386,200,000 appropriation was used to assist allies and 175 million dollars were placed in reserve by the Budget Bureau to meet "future contingencies."

President Eisenhower's new budget provides about 1½ billion dollars to continue the Army's modernization program at its present rate. The Army originally tried to get five billion dollars a year for three years for modernization.

Lemnitzer differed with some of the opinions expressed to the committee earlier in the day by Gen. Maxwell Taylor. Taylor, now retired, was Lemnitzer's predecessor as Army commander.

Taylor said the Joint Chiefs of Staff should be replaced by a single chief of staff. Lemnitzer said the JCS is "the proper organization for this country."

Lemnitzer said he agreed with the concept of an around-the-clock airborne alert for Strategic Air Command bombers, but said he was opposed to such a precaution "under the current circumstances and the situation as it exists today."

W. Va Senate Passes School Measure

House Vote Slated On Bill To Extend Jobless Benefits

CHARLESTON — A bill to lengthen the maximum duration of unemployment benefits in West Virginia by 12 weeks came up for passage in the House of Delegates today.

A House - approved bill dealing with unemployment also was at passage stage in the Senate. It was a measure to authorize establishment of area vocational education programs, intended primrily to train machine - displaced coal miners for other work.

Senate passage would send the bill back to the House for concurrence in a Senate Amendment. As passed by the House, the bill authorized payment of subsistence to unemployed persons taking the training. The Senate amended it to provide payment only for transportation to and from classes.

The bill awaiting a House vote would increase the maximum period for drawing jobless benefits from 24 to 36 weeks. There would be no change in the present $30 maximum weekly benefit.

But the bill was open for amendment at passage stage and it was likely there would be attempts from the floor to increase the amount as well as the duration of benefits.

The bill on the floor was a drastic revision by the Judiciary Committee of a bill originally introduced under the auspices of the major segments of organized labor in the state.

The original bill, militantly opposed by management spokesmen at a committee hearing, would have lengthened the maximum benefit period to 39 weeks and increased the maximum benefit to $42 a week.

Also in the original bill was a provision, now deleted, under which a rise in the average weekly wage in insured employment would have brought an automatic increase all along the line in the benefit scale. Some critics called this a "one-way escalator clause" because there would have been no drop in benefits if the average wage went down. Benefits cannot now be changed without legislation.

Still another unemployment bill was passed by the Senate Thursday and sent to the House. The bill would require the State Road Commission to hire unemployed persons for non-skilled jobs on road maintenance projects in their home counties.

The 21-10 vote was largely, but not entirely, along party lines. Nineteen Democrats were joined in support of the bill by two Republicans — Sens. Joseph M. Handlan (Wood) and Wilson Anderson (Kanawha). Voting with seven Republicans against the measure were three Democrats — Sens. Walter A. Holden (Harrison) Hans McCourt (Webster) and Glenn Taylor (Mingo).

One of the GOP opponents, Sen. Raymond Vassar (Lewis), charged that the bill was drafted for a political reason, namely to help Senate President Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) "be elected governor of West Virginia."

A bill intended to bolster county financial effort for school support was passed unanimously by the Senate. The measure, which now goes to the House, would do away with present penalty provisions whereby a county has its state school aid allocation cut if its property assessments for tax purposes are not at least 50 per cent of appraised values set by the state tax commissioner's survey.

The bill would require an assessment level of at least 50 per cent, however. If a county's assessments were too low to raise the taxes for which the county was held responsible under the foundation school program, the county court would have to transfer to the county school board enough levying power to make up the difference.

The Senate defeated 19-12 a bill which would have taken away the State Medical Licensing Board's discretionary authority in granting permits to foreign medical graduates to serve in West Virginia hospitals as interns, house physicians and residents - in - training.

Granting of such permits is now governed by regulations of the board. The bill would have spelled out in law the requirements for permits and the board would have had to grant a permit to an applicant who met them.

Home To Get Chlorinator

LISBON — A contract was signed by the Columbiana County commissioners Thursday with the Salem Plumbing Co. to supply and install a chlorinating system for the County Home.

The Salem firm bid $3,054, the lowest of 3 received. The H. M. Ellyson & Son of Salem asked $3,146, and the Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana $3,200.

Horton had been awarded a tentative contract Dec. 21, but the commissioners failed to designate in their specifications that the prevailing wage in this section of Ohio must be paid for installation, so bids were sought again.

Water samples taken at the home in October showed the supply to be unsafe, according to County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale. Temporary repairs were made immediately, and the chlorinator has been ordered to insure a continuous safe water supply.

Commissioners yesterday also opened bids for supplying 20 tons of 5-10-10 fertilizer for the home farm. The Rudibaugh Mills of Rogers was low bidder with an offer of $926.

Other bids were received from the Dickey & Son and County Farm Bureau Co-operative, both of Lisbon, and the Salona Supply Co. of Salem.

PTA's Past Presidents Given Corsages For Founder's Day

Past presidents of the 7th St. Parent-Teacher Association were honored during a Founders' Day observance Thursday afternoon at the Midland school.

Mrs. William Black, president, presented corsages of red carnations to Mrs. Markle Hurtt, Mrs. P. A. Fernsler, Mrs. Harry Green, Mrs. Jack Haggerty and Mrs. Claude Reed, all past presidents, and Miss Margaret Hogan, elementary principal and a life member of the association.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell was a guest. Mrs. William Wyche, library chairman, gave a dialogue, "Tribute," to Mrs. Alice McLellan Berney, founder of the PTA.

A $10 donation was made to the Lincoln High School marching band for its trip to Washington May 14 to participate in the National Safety Patrol parade.

Plans were made for a public card party and bake sale to be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the school. Mrs. William Orr and Mrs. Stephen Francis will be in charge.

Miss Mary Conlon, remedial reading teacher for the elementary schools, spoke on "Improving Reading for Today's Children." The first grade, taught by Mrs. Ralph Jewell, won the attendance award.

A silver offering was given and devotions were led by Mrs. George Studen. Third grade mothers were hostesses for the tea. Valentine favors were made by Mrs. Joseph Vujonovich, who was assisted in serving by Mrs. Studen and Mrs. Mark Yandrich.

Members signed a card for Mrs. Jean Marx, third grade teacher, who is ill. Next meeting will be March 3 when Mrs. Robert Katich, home economist, will be the guest speaker.

Etiquette Changing On Social Calories

Etiquette rules on social calories are undergoing a subtle but definite change. Whether you eat heartily or lightly at social affairs is largely up to you. However, in the midst of change it is difficult to note the difference.

By Ida Jean Kain

These two refreshing letters on the subject of social calories show the modern trend. One letter is written from the viewpoint of a guest, the other from the angle of the hostess.

The guest letter is from the Midwest, where a spirited woman refused to be fenced in by outmoded social manners. She writes:

"On the subject of social calories: When you finally realize that nobbody in this world cares but you how much you weigh, you can take food or say, 'No, thank you.'

"THIS IS SO firm in my mind that I can always refuse a big piece of cake from a willowy hostess. It's not her worry if I gain. I'm the one who cares.

"Thirteen years ago I weighed 200 pounds . . . and had weighed between 160 and 200 for ten years. By carefully counting calories I took off 50 pounds in a year. For 13 years now I have maintained my right weight. If I gain a pound or two, I promptly take off those two pounds. I hope this will help some of your readers who have trouble controlling their weight."

What an honest soul! Her attitude is healthy-minded. How much better than for her to wonder aloud if she should or should not eat the cake, thus inviting her hostess to coax her.

The second letter is written from the nation's Capitol, where entertaining often involves people from many countries. A hostess writes:

"This is in answer to your column wherein you express the idea that we need a new concept in regard to social calories.

"For many years my husband and I have entertained people from other countries and it has been a part of our hospitality to ask our visitors beforehand if they are allergic to certain foods, or whether their religion prohibits some foods. A young Moslem student told me whenever he was invited to a home and served ham, he would go hungry.

"Consideration for guests applies on the local level. Since there are no two people alike, why should we try to impose our ideas upon others, including our nearest friends and relatives. . .especially imposing our food preferences upon them.

"JUST BECAUSE a person is reducing or on a restricted diet for some condition, he or she should not feel compelled to refuse invitations. Then, more than ever, he needs the company of friends. We have lost the art of altruism which our Lord taught us.

"As a hostess, I have found it is much more rewarding to serve smaller quanitities but a greater variety of food so that all the guests may have a choice. Isn't that what hearty hospitality means?"

There is a hstess with an understanding heart.

SUB Payments Ruled Subject To Income Tax

Supplemental Unemployment — SUB — paid by the employer is income on which the federal income tax must be paid.

Melvin J. Burton, director of the Cleveland district, today cautioned all recipients of such income that it should be included in their federal tax return for the year in which the payment was received.

Burton pointed out that the taxability of such payments differs from unemployment benefits paid by the state. The payments received from the State Unemployment Compensation Commission are not subject to the federal tax.

In Profits And Output

Steel Strike's Toll Less Than Was First Expected

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel strike's toll in profits and output turns out to be less than first expected. But its long-range toll in consumer prices and in lost markets is yet to be assessed.

The nation's three largest steel producers show a decline in profits in 1959 from 1958. But in spite of operations at a loss during the struck third quarter, their final figures for the year aren't bad at all. U. S. Steel's profits, for example, were the best for any post-war year since 1955.

And most steel producers show increased profits in 1959. Some of the smaller ones weren't struck and were able to work at capacity with few customers quibbling about prices. Some of the larger ones had only part of their operations cut off by the strike and did well enough with the plants to offset strike losses in the others.

Of the 23 steel and iron companies reporting earnings to date, only seven show declines in net income after taxes. Combined the 23 show 1959 earnings topping 1958 by 3.5 per cent.

As for output the nation's steel mills turned out eight million more tons of steel last year, despite the strike, than they did in 1958.

The industry also increased steel-making capacity by nearly one million tons last year. And this year it plans to spend 1½ billion dollars on construction and new equipment, or half a billion more than last, and almost as much as the record 1957 outlay of 1¾ billion dollars.

A chief factor in the good showing in both profits and output last year was the big spurt in the first half of the year getting ready for the strike.

A chief factor in the planning for this year is that the steel companies are working hard to catch up after the strike and replenish customers' stocks. So profits are soaring.

But the strike did take its toll in other ways. Americans bought a record 4½ million tons of foreign steel, an increase of 259 per cent over 1958. American exports of steel dropped to 1½ million tons, the lowest since 1936.

American steelmakers say imports will fall this year, although Europe may still hold some of its new American markets. The Americans also hope to do better in exports, too.

'Hall Era' Has Ended In Fire Department

CINCINNATI (AP)—The "Hall era" apparently has ended in the Cincinnati Fire Department.

Marshall John Hall, who has been in the department for 25 years, announced his retirement Thursday. Members of three generations of his family have a total of 129 years of service in the fire department.

Unless they create some kind of a woman's auxiliary, John Hall's retirement apparently ends the family's service. His two children are both girls.

Killed In Cave-In

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Lee Seizemore, 38, of Dayton, was killed in suburban Kettering Thursday when a ditch in which he was working caved in, burying him. He was installing a sewer line.

The title of "narrowest city in the world" is claimed by Gingham Canyon, Utah, which is one street wide and three miles long.

Accidents Killed 91,500 In U.S. In '59, Report Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Accidents killed 91,500 Americans last year. They injured 9,300,000 men, women and children.

They cost $12,600,000,000.

The National Safety Council, in so reporting today, said the 1959 death toll was just 1,000 higher than in 1958, an increase of one per cent.

Traffic accidents topped the list with 37,800 deaths, followed by home accidents with 26,500, accidents at work with 13,800 and accidents in public—excluding traffic fatalities—with 16,500.

Fatalities rose in all those classes except in the home, where there was no change in comparison with the previous year.

The council said the population death rate—the number of accidental deaths per 100,000 population—declined to a record low of 51.9.

The economic loss was calculated for both fatal and non-fatal accidents and it included wage losses, medical expense, production delays and equipment and property damage.

Castro Talks With Mikoyan Set On Trade

HAVANA (AP)—A shiny Soviet exposition set the stage today for talks between Fidel Castro's trade-hungry government and the top Soviet salesman, Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

A top Castro aide quickly let it be known that Cuba hopes for a new era in business dealings with Moscow.

Only a few hours after Mikoyan's arrival Thursday, the left-wing president of Cuba's national bank, Ernesto Guevara, told a TV audience that "trade is necessary and for us very necessary."

"We are completely disposed to talk," he said. "Now the problem is to see if our visitor is equally disposed.

"He must be asked," the top economic official added, "and we will do it when the opportunity presents itself."

The opportunity probably will come after the 64-year-old Mikoyan formally opens the Soviet scientific, technical and cultural exhibit—the announced purpose of his visit.

U.S. offficials in Washington viewed Mikoyan's visit as a dramatic propaganda move by Moscow to capitalize on the low ebb in American-Cuban relations.

They say he may have brought a raft of trade offers in anticipation of Cuban overtures.

An added possibility is that Mikoyan will seek to re-establish Cuban-Soviet diplomatic relations, which were broken off during Fulgencio Batista's regime. In line with such a move, he is expected to invite Castro to pay a state visit to Moscow.

'Outstanding In Ohio'

Two Newsboys Honored

U. RONALD LAWRENCE

RICHARD J. VAN GREW

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Richard J. Van Drew, 14, a Toledo Blade newspaperboy, and U. Ronald Lawrence, 17, newspaperboy for The Middletown Journal, were announced today as the "Outstanding Ohio Newspaperboys for 1959."

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court will present special certificate awards to both boys tonight at the 27th annual Ohio Newspaper Association convention banquet at which the boys will be guests of honor.

They were selected as winners in the eighth Glenn L Cox Newspaperboy Achievement Awards competition held annually for Ohio's more than 50,000 newspaperboys who daily deliver their newspaper routes as independent "little merchants."

IN ADDITION to the certificates presented by Justice Weygandt on behalf of the ONA, each boy also will receive a $100 check from their newspapers. The boys also will meet Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who will participate in the banquet program.

The annual competition, sponsored by the ONA and the Ohio Circulation Managers Association, is based on excellence of newspaper delivery performance, school grades and activities, personal achievement and community service, which includes church, civic and any other service benefiting other persons.

Outstanding records of accomplishment have been compiled by each boy in a comparatively few years. Van Drew in three years built his newspaper route from 64 to 79 customers in an already-developed area and has a bank account of $575 from route earnings. He also works as school cafeteria cashier for his lunch and because of his accuracy with money matters.

A "B" student, Dick was an honor roll junior high student, school safety patrol captain, sang in the choir and played in the school band. His trombone was bought out of his newspaperboy savings. He was also class president, is a past winner of the Boys Club Award of the Month for sports and the Toledo Blade gold medal citation for safety patrol.

LAWRENCE serves 110 subscribers with a fine collection and service record.

He has been a newspaperboy for six years and in that time has saved 90 per cent of his earnings for college, including $100 in bonds, $180 in stocks, $140 in a newspaper account and $3,333 in a building and loan.

In addition, he has bought clothing, a power mower, ping-pong table, and a Hi-Fi record player together with his brother.

He attends church regularly as a member of First Methodist Church, contributes and also takes part in family, church, school and camp devotional services.

A straight "A" student, he is also active at Middletown High School in theatrics, debate team, school newspaper, Hi-Y, basketball, glee club, student government, National Honor Society, Buckeye Boys State, Spanish society, Quill and Scroll, and winner in several scholarship tests.

Sen. Byrd Defends State

West Virginia Criticized, Lauded In Separate Stories

By The Associated Press

While Sen. Robert C. Byrd yesterday was defending West Virginia against criticisms in the Saturday Evening Post, another magazine came out that had nothing but good things to say about the state.

Industrial Development Magazine had praise for the "great and interesting contrasts" that it saw as favorable to industrial development.

"Naturally, we are pleased with the tone of this story released at a time when there is so much talk about what is wrong with our state," said Don Crislip, executive director of the West Virginia Industrial Publicity Commission.

Byrd told his colleagues in the Senate that the author of the Post article "has fallen into the error of pointing to the exception rather than the rule, the extreme rather than the normal."

He labeled "the most offensive thing about the article a quotation from an unidentified newspaper which called the Mountain State's migrants 'beer-swilling clods who wouldn't go to a church that didn't use rattlesnakes in the service.' This, he said, was an "unadulterated, unmitigated lie."

Other matters that Byrd found had been handled erroneously or misleadingly were the illegitimate birth rate in West Virginia, the willingness of lack of it of young people to go to school, and the description of the residents as 'shoeless, shiftless and provincial.'

The January issue of Industrial Development Magazine, unlike this week's issue of the Post, relies heavily on quotes from industrial officials in building up its picture of the state.

Carl L. Sullvan, works public relations manager for the Kaiser Aluminum plant at Ravenswood, was one of those quoted. He said the state was "singularly blessed" in having such "vital factors" as:

Proximity to the largest market, advantageous geographical relations in product flow from raw materials through finished goods, availability of inexpensive power, availability of labor in both quantity and quality, diversified types of transportaton and easily developed sites.

The special report in the national magazine was written by its managing editor, Jouett Davenport Jr.

"From this standpoint," Crislip said, "it becomes an unbiased report."

The report was sponsored by the Industrial and Publicity Commission, which has copies available.

Understanding Of Problems Of Youth Urged In Club Talk

The need of young men and women for adult understanding of their problems was underscored by Bennett Taylor, county Boy Scout executive, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Taylor said the youth of today are not much changed from those of past generations, but they do have more complicated problems and have more attention focused upon them.

He said particular aspects of television, the automobile, the working mother and the draft program pose special problems different from earlier times.

"There are vast amounts of information, articles and expert theories on youth matters, and how to raise children, and there are uncounted organizations for helping young people — Y-groups, Scouts, 4-H, Key Clubs, Junior Achievement and others.

"Some claim these groups 'Keep them off the streets,' but it would be a great disappointment if that were all the scouts or other organizations actually do.

"Young people need some organization to provide them with activities, but also to give them some positive interests and creative endeavors which will mold them toward adulthood and citizenship," Taylor said.

"Young people want to be what their elders are, and they need men and women of understanding and sympathy to advise and help them, instead of talking to them."

Taylor said the adults should learn to sympathize with the young people, instead of resenting them —"they are just like us before we grew up."

"We need men to take the time to listen and to help these boys—it is everybody's problem, not just the parents," he concluded. Eugene Hall was program chairman.

Jury Picking Goes On In Explosion Trials

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jury selection continues today in the first of 19 trials expected as a result of a 1953 explosion in Andover, Ashtabula County, that killed 22 persons.

The first case is the $148,000 personal injury suit of James W. Surman, 34, of Cleveland, who alleges that his earnings as a hardware store operator were impaired because of injuries.

According to petitions filed, defendants admit the explosion occurred but deny they permitted gasoline to leak into sewers or that they contributed to the explosion.

The defendants are the Ohio & Pennsylvania Oil and Gasoline Co.; Herbert Swezey and Oren Barnes, doing business as Swezey's garage; the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, and the village of Andover.

Tie Vote Stymies Parsonage Move

EAST PALESTINE—A proposal to purchase an East St. home for a new parsonage of the Methodist Church was rejected in a 71-71 tie vote of the congregation Wednesday night.

Failure to endorse the recommendation of the Official Board to purchase the Russell Hughes property apparently tables for the present any move to obtain a new parsonage.

A total of 142 members attended the meeting at which, after a 2 hour discussion, a motion to reconsider the secret ballot vote was turned down by a show of hands.

The church in October purchased a lot on W. North Ave., and had been considering construction of a new home. The board's recommendation would have included exchange of the lot as partial payment on the Hughes home.

The Rev. Thomas Hammerton, formerly of Lisbon who has accepted the pastorate here, is expected to move into the present 70-year-old frame parsonage adjacent to the church.

John D. Rockefeller reputedly refused to argue with people if they did not agree with him.

Castro Talks With Mikoyan Set On Trade

HAVANA (AP)—A shiny Soviet exposition set the stage today for talks between Fidel Castro's trade-hungry government and the top Soviet salesman, Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

A top Castro aide quickly let it be known that Cuba hopes for a new era in business dealings with Moscow.

Only a few hours after Mikoyan's arrival Thursday, the left-wing president of Cuba's national bank, Ernesto Guevara, told a TV audience that "trade is necessary and for us very necessary."

"We are completely disposed to talk," he said. "Now the problem is to see if our visitor is equally disposed.

"He must be asked," the top economic official added, "and we will do it when the opportunity presents itself."

The opportunity probably will come after the 64-year-old Mikoyan formally opens the Soviet scientific, technical and cultural exhibit—the announced purpose of his visit.

U.S. offficials in Washington viewed Mikoyan's visit as a dramatic propaganda move by Moscow to capitalize on the low ebb in American-Cuban relations.

Watch That Guy Snowden . . .

They tell a story about Jim Snowden, the husky 6-foot-4 star for Youngstown East, who will display his wares here Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

East started track as a varsity sport for the first time last spring. Snowden, who never had been associated much with the sport before because of his football and basketball interests, finally decided to go out for the team.

"Big Jim" (he weighs about 220) took a liking to the shot put. He began heaving the iron ball, at first very awkwardly.

Nobody worked much with Jim, but he still continued to throw it in his own way.

His method was good enough to win several meets in and around Youngstown. By the time the district meet rolled around at Salem, sure enough, Snowden was pitching the iron ball over the 50-foot mark and placed first in the district.

A fitting end to the story would be that he won the state shot put. But he didn't. The point is that he is one of those versatile athletes, who coaches dream about, but who only come along once in a blue moon.

He was an All-Ohio end in football this year and was named to several state teams as a junior in basketball a year ago.

His best performance this year in basketball came against Struthers when he scored 53 points to shatter Mickey Yugovich's record of 52, when he was a high school star in Youngstown. Yugovich is now the top scorer for Youngstown University.

It was Snowden's field goal at the buzzer which downed Salem, 41-40, on the Quakers' home court. Keep an eye on him Saturday.

COACH JOHN CABAS of Salem stirred up several Quaker fans Tuesday night at Youngstown.

With about 5½ minutes still remaining, Cabas removed Dave Hunter from the game. At that time Hunter had scored 34 points and was only three shy of Salem's all-time high of 37 held by Bob Pager.

It caused comment from some of the Salem fans, who claimed Cabas pulled Hunter deliberately.

However, people close to Cabas, say he doesn't believe too much in individual performances, but prefers to look at the team record as a whole.

If Cabas deprived Hunter of the record, then that was his privilege as coach. He's the boss, whether the fans think he is right or wrong. And you can't argue much against his record.

—:—

A NOTE to the East Liverpool basketball team: A headline in Thursday's Salem newspaper read: "Quakers Expect Little Opposition From Potters Friday." Therefore, Salem doesn't think much of East Liverpool's basketball forces. An upset tonight might change their thinking!

Previews All But Eliminated . . .

THE STATE'S new ruling which permits regular season games on the weekend following Labor Day figures to eliminate most of the football previews associated with the sport in this area for several years.

Several area clubs and conferences already have given up on the idea for 1960.

Among them is the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, which has held a preview at Patterson Field for district squads since 1955.

The Steel Valley Conference in Youngstown also has halted plans for its annual preview. Other organizations around Ohio are expected to follow suit.

Elimination of the Nonpareil Club's football preview may be disappointing news to some of the fans.

However, the scheduling of powerful Massillon for East Liverpool High's opening game in 1960 lifted a few eyebrows, since it came as a complete surprise.

Besides East Liverpool, Wellsville also has scheduled a game for Sept. 9, with Lisbon. All three teams have participated in the preview here in past years.

The scheduling — which figures to financially benefit the teams involved because of better weather conditions in early September, caused the Nonpareil Club to cancel its preview plans this season and perhaps for the seasons to come.

Stanton Local of Irondale may be the lone area squad to participate in a grid preview in 1960. The Steubenville Lions Club still plans to go ahead with its show even though it has lost two squads from the slate — Wintersville and Springfield Township.

Generous Contributions . . .

THE LITTLE POTTER basketball league opens today, but it couldn't have been possible if it weren't for the cooperation of some sportsminded townspeople.

The officers of the league wish to thank those who have contributed to the program in any way.

Donations of money, scorebooks, basketballs, whistles and timers were received this week.

Some of the donors were Dr. Jay Kinsey, Tom Dixon, Stan Hilbert, Tom Eason, Dr. Art Cloran, Jerry Ryan, Had Connell, Paul Bloor, the Nonpareil Club and Zacks.

The officers feel this league is a step in the right direction for better basketball in East Liverpool. They will need the continued support in order to accomplish their purpose.

IN ANSWER to a question: "who was in the starting lineup for Middletown when the Middies played East Liverpool in the state finals of 1947?"

Our records show the starting five were George McChesney and Bush at the forwards, Shelby Linville at center, Carl Lansaw and Bob Grimes at guards.

Carl Lansaw is a brother of Paul Lansaw who played center on Middletown's championship team of 1946.

THE MAGNET City Elks Lodge 849 of Midland is sponsoring a professional wrestling show Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the Midland High School gym. Tickets are on sale at Bahm's Pharmacy and George's Pharmacy in Midland and at Heimie's and Reark's in East Liverpool.

ALTHOUGH we'll be hoping for an upset, we have to cast our vote for Salem over East Liverpool tonight. The Quakers are tough again this season, especially on their own floor.

Midland is our choice over Rochester, while in another big game Bridgeville may have a little too much height for South Side to overcome.

Newell gets our nod over Augusta, while it looks like United to spill Salineville.

In other contests, we like Bethany — but by only a narrow margin — over New Cumberland and Fairfield-Waterford to break its losing streak against Western Reserve.

On the Tri-County scene, Minerva shouldn't have any trouble with Leetonia, East Palestine rates the edge over Poland and Columbiana is our pick over Lisbon.

Saturday, Youngstown East, with big Jim Snowden, gets the nod over East Liverpool, with Wellsville heavily favored over Mingo Junction.

Springfield gets the edge over Fairfield-Waterford, while Stanton Local is our pick to top Hopedale and Salineville is the choice over Augusta.

Potters Face Acid Tests This Weekend

Salem Tonight, East Here Saturday

This could turn out to be a "lost weekend"" for the East Liverpool Potters, who take on two of Ohio's leading schoolboy teams on successive nights.

Tonight it's the Salem Quakers at Salem and Saturday powerful Youngstown East at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potter-Salem varsity game is set for about 8:30. The reserve contest will get under way at 7:30.

Salem is ranked third in the state, while Youngstown East is 11th and ready to move into the top 10.

The teams boast two of the leading candidates for all-state honors.

Salem has Dave Hunter, one of the most clever guards seen around this area in sometime. Tuesday night he scored 34 points, only three shy of the Salem all-time mark.

Jim Snowden is a big reason why East has a 12-2 record. Averaging better than 23 points a game, Snowden set a new city scoring record for Youngstown with 53 against Struthers.

He also was the big gun for East last year when they literally ran the Potters out of the gym in a 68-39 decision.

East has been the only team to defeat Salem this season.

Snowden was the hero of the game, sinking the winning basket at the buzzer, for a 41-40 victory.

Tonight Coach John Cabas of Salem expects to start Hunter and Dan Krichbaum at the guards. These two apply the pressure on opponents with their pressing tactics.

Don Davidson, 6-foot-4, will be among the starting five, while Jim Lehwald, 6-foot-1, a dangerous shot, and Eric Theiss, 6-foot-5, round out the starting lineup.

Salem is on an eight-game winning streak since losing to East Jan. 5. The Quakers sport a 12-1 record.

Coach Jim Harris of the Potters said his lineup will remain the same, that is if Bob Mackall has fully recovered from an ankle injury.

Kenny Cunningham, who has been showing his best scoring form in the last five games, will be at his usual guard post, joined by Phil Chan, the two-handed set shot artist.

Ray Bigelow, who has recovered from a bout with flu, will be at center, with Kenny Miller at one forward and either Mackall or Craig Burbick at the other.

Mackall suffered the ankle injury early in the fourth quarter of the New Philly game last week.

East Liverpool will play its first Saturday night game at home against East tomorrow. Reserve teams will clash at 7, with the varsity tilt set for about 8:15.

Besides the versatile Snowden, East Coach Ed DiGregorio will start pesky Ed McElroy, a 5-foot-6 guard, who gives opponents nightmares with his ballhawking.

Charlie Burt, 6-foot-2, will be at one forward and Bob Santor, 6-foot, at the other.

DiGregorio will choose between Bob Jefferson, 6-foot-2, or Mosco Dubose, 5-foot-11, for his fifth starter.

East has lost to Sharon, 58-33, and Warren, 58-48, but since the Warren encounter has rolled to seven straight victories.

COACH Ed DiGregorio and his star pupil, Jim Snowden, discuss the strategy they plan to use on the East Liverpool Potters when Youngstown East invades Memorial Auditorium Saturday night. Wildcat Coach Notches 400th Cage Triumph

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Severance is now in a class with Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Bill Terry, Ted Williams and only a few others.

He's hit 400.

After almost 24 seasons as coach of the Villanova basketball team, Severance collected his 400th victory Thursday night when the eighth - ranked Wildcats defeated Manhattan 62-55.

The triumph, which boosted Villanova's record to 15-1, came only a few hours after it had been selected to play in next month's National Invitation Tournament. Dayton and Detroit also accepted bids to the 12-team tourney which gets under way March 10.

The Villanova-Manhattan game was the opener of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. St. John's of New York trounced Syracuse 85-68 in the windup. Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves from Peoria, Ill. whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Elsewhere, Drake bested Tulsa 62-51 in the Missouri Valley Conference, Houston rode over Sam Houston State 92-55 and Colgate nipped Rochester 65-63.

Beaver Local Matmen Meet EL Saturday

Beaver Local will be shooting for its second victory in wrestling over the East Liverpool Potters when the two tangle Saturday on the Beaver Local mats.

Wrestlers will weigh in at 1 p. m., with the first varsity match getting under way at 2. Several exhibition matches are scheduled for 1:30.

Coach Jack Frontone's boys have nine wins against a lone defeat — to Bridgeport, the 1959 state champion.

Meanwhile, the Potters of Lou Venditti are in the midst of one of their poorest seasons recordwise with a 3-4 mark.

Buckeyes Aim For 7th Win

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's bustling Buckeyes, setting a record pace in scoring and field goal accuracy, put their perfect 6-0 Big Ten basketball standing on the line at Northwestern in a regionally televised game Saturday afternoon.

It will be the third time on TV for the Bucks, who previously edged Indiana 96-95 and trounced Michigan State 111-79.

OSU, led by Jerry Lucas' 25.5 average and .694 floor shot percentage, is averaging 94.8 points a game and hitting field goals at a .500 rate.

In addition to Lucas, the Buckeyes, ranked fourth nationally, have three other double - figure sharpshooters — Mel Nowell with 16.8, Larry Siegfried 12.6 and John Havlicek 12.5.

Northwestern, smashed 81-64 by OSU in their first meeting, has the Big Ten's best defensive mark by holding opponents to a 69.5 average. By far its best scorer is Willie Jones with 21.1. The Wildcats (3-3) will be making their first TV appearance.

In Big Ten games Saturday night, Illinois (3-2) is at Michigan (0-5), Indiana (2-3) at Wisconsin (0-5) and Purdue (3-3) at Michigan State (4-3).

FIGHT RESULTS

Los Angeles (Memorial Coliseum) — Jose Becerra, 118, Guadalajara, Mexico, knocked out Alphonse Halimi, 117½, Algeria, 9. (Becerra retained world bantamweight title.) Carlos Ortiz, 137, New York, knocked out Raymundo (Battling) Torres, 138, Mexico, 10. (Ortiz retained world junior welterweight title).

Becerra And Ortiz Retain Titles In Doubleheader

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sun rose today on this happy aftermath of Memorial Coliseum's championship boxing doubleheader:

Champions Jose Becerra, the bombing bantamweight, and Carlos Ortiz, kingpin of the junior welterweights, still had their titles.

Promoters who lured 31,830 fans for the first fight card in the huge outdoor stadium were busy dividing the $363,890—a record California gate.

Even the losers—bantamweight Alphonse Halimi of France and Mexico's Raymundo Torres—managed smiles. They picked up a pocketful of change and ringing bravos for a gallant, if unsuccessful, try for their divisions' highest honors.

Becerra could easily be elected president of his Mexican homeland after his stunning, one-punch knockout of Halimi in their sizzling rematch.

And Ortiz, sharpshooting New Yorker, added another strong argument to his case for a crack at lightweight champion Joe Brown's title with his 10th round knockout of 18-year-old Torres.

Halimi, 117, boxing deftly, kept the hard-socking Mexican champion from Guadaljara at bay for eight rounds. He was leading on all cards when he ran into a corking left hook early in the ninth.

"I hit him right on the point of the chin," said the 118-pound Becerra in a dressing room crowded with jubilant Mexicans.

Ortiz, 137, wore down the strong but inexperienced Torres with savage counterpounches. The coup de grace was a barrage of lefts and rights followed by a jolting right to the jaw.

Teen-age Torres, 138, admitted later that he just couldn't take any more.

In his dressing room, the 23-year-old Ortiz said "now I want a shot at Brown. I've beaten the best lightweights around. I deserve a title shot."

The championship doubleheader was the first bona-fide fight card in the 100,000-seat Coliseum.

Sparks, Linville Pace East Junior To Tenth

Staging one of its best offensive shows of the season, East Junior High, paced by John Sparks and Roger Linville, notched its tenth straight victory with a 61-24 decision over East Palestine Thursday at the East End gym.

Coach Dom Cascio's team now stands just two games away from a perfect season. The East Panthers will meet Westgate in the battle for the mythical city championship next Thursday at 7 p. m.

East Junior led all the way Thursday and had the issue pretty well settled with a 28-7 advantage at halftime.

Sparks had one of his best games of the season — pointwise — with 22 markers while Roger Linville was right behind, popping in 19 points. McComas added 10 points to the attack.

Robertson paced East Palestine with 10 points.

Westgate Edges Wellsville, 26-23, For 9th Straight Win

Westgate extended its winning streak to eight straight with a 26-23 win at Wellsville Thursday.

South Side Five In Crucial Tilt

A showdown battle at South Side for Section 15 honors highlights a 10-game card in district basketball tonight.

Coach Dave Nichol sends his South Side team against Bridgeville, the undefeated Section 15 leader, in a "must" game for the Rams.

A victory would pretty well clinch the title for Bridgeville in the Class "B" section. If South Side defeats Bridgeville, both teams would show identical 8-1 records.

The Rams have been one of the hottest ball clubs in the district during the last month. They have won seven straight contests, boosting their their record from a mediocre 4-7 mark to 11-7.

The only loss in section play was at Bridgeville, 73-33.

Nichol pointed out that his team at the time was playing away from home and was without the services of Dan Parsons, who was still recovering from a foot injury.

Since Parsons has returned to the lineup, the Rams haven't been beaten.

Nichol also said that Bridgeville will have a tremendous height advantage, with all five starters going over the six-foot mark. Bridgeville has walked through Section 15 so far with little trouble.

The district's other Pennsylvania school — Midland — shoots for its eighth straight Section 8 win and shouldn't have much trouble against Rochester at Rochester.

Midland was forced to come from behind in its last outing Tuesday night at Beaver. The all-important tilt with New Brighton awaits the Leopards next Tuesday on the New Brighton floor.

Newell plays its third game this week, entertaining Augusta.

Two county rivals meet tonight at Hanoverton when Salineville takes on the Golden Eagles of United. Coach Bob Penrod's United team will attempt to bounce back after its loss to Stanton Local earlier this week.

New Cumberland, which almost upset highly-regarded Weirton Madonna, swings back into action tonight at Bethany.

Four Columbiana County teams are involved in Tri-County warfare tonight.

Minerva will be gunning for its 13th victory of the season in entertaining Leetonia. Poland goes to East Palestine, where the Bulldogs will attempt to end a two-game losing streak.

Lisbon, in the midst of one of its worst seasons in the school's history, carries a 10-game losing string to Columbiana.

Another team with a long losing streak — Fairfield-Waterford — meets Western Reserve on its home court.

On Saturday, Wellsville, with its 8-3 record, returns to action for the first time in a week when Mingo Junction comes to Beacom Memorial Gym.

Mickey Wright, women's national Open golf champion, earned $18,182 in 26 tournaments in 1959.

Salem is on an eight-game winning streak since losing to East Jan. 5. The Quakers sport a 12-1 record.

Coach Jim Harris of the Potters said his lineup will remain the same, that is if Bob Mackall has fully recovered from an ankle injury.

Kenny Cunningham, who has been showing his best scoring form in the last five games, will be at his usual guard post, joined by Phil Chan, the two-handed set shot artist.

Ray Bigelow, who has recovered from a bout with flu, will be at center, with Kenny Miller at one forward and either Mackall or Craig Burbick at the other.

Mackall suffered the ankle injury early in the fourth quarter of the New Philly game last week.

East Liverpool will play its first Saturday night game at home against East tomorrow. Reserve teams will clash at 7, with the varsity tilt set for about 8:15.

Besides the versatile Snowden, East Coach Ed DiGregorio will start pesky Ed McElroy, a 5-foot-6 guard, who gives opponents nightmares with his ballhawking.

Charlie Burt, 6-foot-2, will be at one forward and Bob Santor, 6-foot, at the other.

DiGregorio will choose between Bob Jefferson, 6-foot-2, or Mosco Dubose, 5-foot-11, for his fifth starter.

East has lost to Sharon, 58-33, and Warren, 58-48, but since the Warren encounter has rolled to seven straight victories.

Wildcat Coach Notches 400th Cage Triumph

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Severance is now in a class with Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Bill Terry, Ted Williams and only a few others.

He's hit 400.

After almost 24 seasons as coach of the Villanova basketball team, Severance collected his 400th victory Thursday night when the eighth - ranked Wildcats defeated Manhattan 62-55.

The triumph, which boosted Villanova's record to 15-1, came only a few hours after it had been selected to play in next month's National Invitation Tournament. Dayton and Detroit also accepted bids to the 12-team tourney which gets under way March 10.

The Villanova-Manhattan game was the opener of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. St. John's of New York trounced Syracuse 85-68 in the windup. Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves from Peoria, Ill. whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Elsewhere, Drake bested Tulsa 62-51 in the Missouri Valley Conference, Houston rode over Sam Houston State 92-55 and Colgate nipped Rochester 65-63.

Beaver Local Matmen Meet EL Saturday

Wrestlers will weigh in at 1 p. m., with the first varsity match getting under way at 2. Several exhibition matches are scheduled for 1:30.

Coach Jack Frontone's boys have nine wins against a lone defeat — to Bridgeport, the 1959 state champion.

Meanwhile, the Potters of Lou Venditti are in the midst of one of their poorest seasons recordwise with a 3-4 mark.

Buckeyes Aim For 7th Win

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's bustling Buckeyes, setting a record pace in scoring and field goal accuracy, put their perfect 6-0 Big Ten basketball standing on the line at Northwestern in a regionally televised game Saturday afternoon.

It will be the third time on TV for the Bucks, who previously edged Indiana 96-95 and trounced Michigan State 111-79.

OSU, led by Jerry Lucas' 25.5 average and .694 floor shot percentage, is averaging 94.8 points a game and hitting field goals at a .500 rate.

In addition to Lucas, the Buckeyes, ranked fourth nationally, have three other double - figure sharpshooters — Mel Nowell with 16.8, Larry Siegfried 12.6 and John Havlicek 12.5.

Northwestern, smashed 81-64 by OSU in their first meeting, has the Big Ten's best defensive mark by holding opponents to a 69.5 average. By far its best scorer is Willie Jones with 21.1. The Wildcats (3-3) will be making their first TV appearance.

In Big Ten games Saturday night, Illinois (3-2) is at Michigan (0-5), Indiana (2-3) at Wisconsin (0-5) and Purdue (3-3) at Michigan State (4-3).

Becerra And Ortiz Retain Titles In Doubleheader

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sun rose today on this happy aftermath of Memorial Coliseum's championship boxing doubleheader:

Champions Jose Becerra, the bombing bantamweight, and Carlos Ortiz, kingpin of the junior welterweights, still had their titles.

Promoters who lured 31,830 fans for the first fight card in the huge outdoor stadium were busy dividing the $363,890—a record California gate.

Even the losers—bantamweight Alphonse Halimi of France and Mexico's Raymundo Torres—managed smiles. They picked up a pocketful of change and ringing bravos for a gallant, if unsuccessful, try for their divisions' highest honors.

Becerra could easily be elected president of his Mexican homeland after his stunning, one-punch knockout of Halimi in their sizzling rematch.

And Ortiz, sharpshooting New Yorker, added another strong argument to his case for a crack at lightweight champion Joe Brown's title with his 10th round knockout of 18-year-old Torres.

Halimi, 117, boxing deftly, kept the hard-socking Mexican champion from Guadaljara at bay for eight rounds. He was leading on all cards when he ran into a corking left hook early in the ninth.

"I hit him right on the point of the chin," said the 118-pound Becerra in a dressing room crowded with jubilant Mexicans.

Ortiz, 137, wore down the strong but inexperienced Torres with savage counterpounches. The coup de grace was a barrage of lefts and rights followed by a jolting right to the jaw.

Teen-age Torres, 138, admitted later that he just couldn't take any more.

In his dressing room, the 23-year-old Ortiz said "now I want a shot at Brown. I've beaten the best lightweights around, I deserve a title shot."

The championship doubleheader was the first bona-fide fight card in the 100,000-seat Coliseum.

Sparks, Linville Pace East Junior To Tenth

Staging one of its best offensive shows of the season, East Junior High, paced by John Sparks and Roger Linville, notched its tenth straight victory with a 61-24 decision over East Palestine Thursday at the East End gym.

Coach Dom Cascio's team now stands just two games away from a perfect season. The East Panthers will meet Westgate in the battle for the mythical city championship next Thursday at 7 p. m.

East Junior led all the way Thursday and had the issue pretty well settled with a 28-7 advantage at halftime.

Sparks had one of his best games of the season — pointwise — with 22 markers while Roger Linville was right behind, popping in 19 points. McComas added 10 points to the attack.

Robertson paced East Palestine with 10 points.

After East meets Westgate next week, the Panthers take on Salem in the final game of the season.

South Side Five In Crucial Tilt

A showdown battle at South Side for Section 15 honors highlights a 10-game card in district basketball tonight.

Coach Dave Nichol sends his South Side team against Bridgeville, the undefeated Section 15 leader, in a "must" game for the Rams.

A victory would pretty well clinch the title for Bridgeville in the Class "B" section. If South Side defeats Bridgeville, both teams would show identical 8-1 records.

The Rams have been one of the hottest ball clubs in the district during the last month. They have won seven straight contests, boosting their their record from a mediocre 4-7 mark to 11-7.

The only loss in section play was at Bridgeville, 73-33.

Nichol pointed out that his team at the time was playing away from home and was without the services of Dan Parsons, who was still recovering from a foot injury.

Since Parsons has returned to the lineup, the Rams haven't been beaten.

Nichol also said that Bridgeville will have a tremendous height advantage, with all five starters going over the six-foot mark. Bridgeville has walked through Section 15 so far with little trouble.

The district's other Pennsylvania school — Midland — shoots for its eighth straight Section 8 win and shouldn't have much trouble against Rochester at Rochester.

Midland was forced to come from behind in its last outing Tuesday night at Beaver. The all-important tilt with New Brighton awaits the Leopards next Tuesday on the New Brighton floor.

Newell plays its third game this week, entertaining Augusta.

Two county rivals meet tonight at Hanoverton when Salineville takes on the Golden Eagles of United. Coach Bob Penrod's United team will attempt to bounce back after its loss to Stanton Local earlier this week.

New Cumberland, which almost upset highly-regarded Weirton Madonna, swings back into action tonight at Bethany.

Four Columbiana County teams are involved in Tri-County warfare tonight.

Minerva will be gunning for its 13th victory of the season in entertaining Leetonia. Poland goes to East Palestine, where the Bulldogs will attempt to end a two-game losing streak.

Lisbon, in the midst of one of its worst seasons in the school's history, carries a 10-game losing string to Columbiana.

Another team with a long losing streak — Fairfield-Waterford — meets Western Reserve on its home court.

On Saturday, Wellsville, with its 8-3 record, returns to action for the first time in a week when Mingo Junction comes to Beacom Memorial Gym.

Mickey Wright, women's national Open golf champion, earned $18,182 in 26 tournaments in 1959.

Newell Avenges Loss In 70-61 Win Over Northwestern

Stine's 26 Pace Viking's Attack

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Bob Stine, Newell's 6-foot-2 center, came through in the clutch and led his team to a 70-61 upset over Northwestern Thursday night on the Wells High floor.

Northwestern is the same team which defeated Newell by a lopsided 64-39 score in the second game of the season at Darlington.

Last night Newell led nearly all the way and was strong enough to stave off a late bid by the visitors for its fourth victory in 14 games.

Stine stole the show by scoring 26 points, but he scored when they counted the most.

After Newell had led by 16 points early in the third quarter, Northwestern kept nipping away until they came within two points of the Vikings, 62-60, with only 2:54 remaining.

At this point, Stine went to work and scored six straight fouls and a bucket to pull the Vikings out of danger.

The lanky pivot man hit on 8 field goals and 10 of 14 fouls and scored 10 of his points in the last quarter.

Newell was without their head coach John Robison last night and Coach Pete Horoszko took over the reins. Robison has been down with flu.

The victory snapped Newell's three-game losing streak and the Vikings return to action on its home court again tonight facing Augusta.

Two other Newell starters broke into the double figures as Mickey Staley dropped in 13 and Larry Hutton added 11.

Substitute Gary Evans chipped in with some timely scoring. The junior entered the game in the second quarter and added three quick points and then dropped in three fast buckets in the third period for a total of nine.

Little Dale Bable turned out to be the big sparkplug in the Northwestern attack.

It was Bable who brought his team from 16 points behind in the third quarter with 12 markers in that period.

He led fast breaks, stole the ball and was a general nuisance to the Vikings in that period.

Bable finished as top man in the scoring department for the visitors with 17 points. Bob Brown, Northwestern's husky center, was next in line with 15 while Skip Vosovic added 13.

Northwestern entered last night's game with a 3-9 record.

Newell took a 20-14 lead at the end of the first period and showed a 36-27 margin at halftime.

With Bable leading the attack, Northwestern was right back in the game at the end of the third quarter, trailing 54-48.

Moving into the fourth quarter, Brown hit three buckets and Vosovic added four points to pull Northwestern within two of the Vikings, 62-60.

Stine was fouled two consecutive times and added four straight points from the charity line to put Newell back in front at 66-60 with about two minutes remaining in the contest.

Sonny Vosovic added a foul to make it 66-61 and then Stine hit on a layup and added two more fouls for the final 70-61 margin.

Northwestern tripped the Newell reserves, 53-34, in the preliminary contest. Vince Garrett paced the winners with 17 while Bob Barnett scored 10 for the Vikings.

Three Officials Used To Call Newell Game

Newell High School might have come up with an inovation in basketball Thursday night when three referees were used to officiate the Newell - Northwestern game.

However, it was a mistake that three officials showed up for the game. Newell coach John Robison had forgotten that he had hired Bill Bechdel of Beaver.

Robison, thinking he needed an official for the game, called Delmo Trombetta of Mingo Junction earlier this week. Well, Thursday night Bechdel, Trombetta and Chester Grossi of Weirton, who was already hired before, showed up for the game.

The three agreed to work the game together.

Asked if it was any easier with three, Grossi replied: "It's just as tough with three of us as it is with two."

Unknown Pro Leads Field In Richest Golf Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A comparatively unknown pro was pacing the name players today as the world's richest golf tournament went into its third round.

One stroke in front approaching the halfway point in the 90-hole event was Wes Ellis Jr., steady-nerved Texan who Thursday put together the tournament's lowest round yet—65—over the Tamarisk course, toughest of four layouts in the $100,000 Palm Springs classic. His 65, paired with a first round 70, gave him 135—just one stroke in front of Bill Johnston, a Provo, Utah, public links pro, and 24-year-old John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif.

Johnston shot a 67 at Thunderbird to go with his previous 69 while McMullin scored 68 two days in a row.

As the pressure grew, some of the top money winners were close enough to move in for the kill.

Veterans Al Besselink, Jackie Burke, Jr., and Johnny Palmer were only two strokes off at 137, as was Bob Goalby.

Although there is keen interest in the front runners, the real crowd and pro-pleasing gimmick is the $50,000 prize for a hole-in-one.

Souchak' almost got it on Thunderbird's 148-yard eighth when his tee shot dropped in and then bounced out of the cup, winding up six inches away.

Had the flag been leaning in the other direction, the ball probably would have stayed in the hole.

Pitching Was Big Problem For Reds In 1959 Season

By FRED HUTCHINSON
Manager, Cincinnati Reds

BRADENTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If anyone needs proof of the importance of good pitching, just let him review the record of the Cincinnati Reds last year. We led the league in batting, slugging, hits, runs scored, runs batted in and total bases. We had adequate defense and better than average speed. Yet we couldn't do better than finish in a tie for fifth.

Why? We were seventh in pitching effectiveness with an earned run average, giving up nearly 4½ runs a game. We lost 27 games by blowing leads in the last three innings. Obviously, that meant we had a decided weakness in the pitching department, especially in the bullpen.

It is not difficult to understand, then, why we parted with such fine players as Johnny Temple and Frank Thomas in order to do something about our pitching.

The addition of Cal McLish and Bill Henry should give us a pretty good staff although we still could use more help on the mound. The holdover are Don Newcombe, Bob Purkey, Joe Nuxhall, Jim Brosnan and Brooks Lawrence.

We also have youngsters like Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Orlando Pena, all rookies last year. Coming up are Mike Cuellar, Claude Osteen, Ed Palmquist, Dave Stenhouse and Ted Wieand.

Although I'm sure we'll miss Temple, I feel we are pretty well protected in the infield with fellows like Roy McMillan, Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Willie Jones. We have a fine crop of infield rookies in shortstop Chico Cardenas, second baseman Elio Chacon, third baseman Cleff Cook and first baseman Gordon Coleman.

If Coleman can make it, Frank Robinson will return to the outfield. An outfield of Vada Pinson, Gus Bell and Robinson doesn't shape up bad at all. As reserve outfielders we have Jerry Lynch, Pete Whisenant and Lee Walls.

We're pretty well set in catching with Ed Bailey, Frank House and Dutch Dotterer.

Summing it up, I feel we're still not entirely sound to be an outstanding contender but we should be stronger and our pennant chances are very good if we can coordinate our hitting, fielding and pitching.

(Next: Casey Stengel, New York Yankees.)

Return Bout All Set But Signing, Johansson Says

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson's adviser says the return match with Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight boxing title is all set for New York in June, except for the signing.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's adviser, claimed Thursday only "technicalities" prevented an actual signing in New York last week. He said the champion will return to America later this month to sign.

Bill Fugazy, one of the chief executives of Feature Sports, Inc., the new promotional group, said in New York the fight would be held in the Polo Grounds during the week of June 19-25.

"The only thing holding us up in getting our license from the New York State Athletic Commission," he said. "We hope to get it this week. When we do, we will apply for a date."

Three Officials Used To Call Newell Game

Newell High School might have come up with an inovation in basketball Thursday night when three referees were used to officiate the Newell - Northwestern game.

However, it was a mistake that three officials showed up for the game. Newell coach John Robison had forgotten that he had hired Bill Bechdel of Beaver.

Robison, thinking he needed an official for the game, called Delmo Trombetta of Mingo Junction earlier this week. Well, Thursday night Bechdel, Trombetta and Chester Grossi of Weirton, who was already hired before, showed up for the game.

The three agreed to work the game together.

Asked if it was any easier with three, Grossi replied: "It's just as tough with three of us as it is with two."

The three officials called only an average amount of 39 fouls.

Unknown Pro Leads Field In Richest Golf Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A comparatively unknown pro was pacing the name players today as the world's richest golf tournament went into its third round.

One stroke in front approaching the halfway point in the 90-hole event was Wes Ellis Jr., steady-nerved Texan who Thursday put together the tournament's lowest round yet—65—over the Tamarisk course, toughest of four layouts in the $100,000 Palm Springs classic. His 65, paired with a first round 70, gave him 135—just one stroke in front of Bill Johnston, a Provo, Utah, public links pro, and 24-year-old John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif.

Johnston shot a 67 at Thunderbird to go with his previous 69 while McMullin scored 68 two days in a row.

As the pressure grew, some of the top money winners were close enough to move in for the kill.

Veterans Al Besselink, Jackie Burke, Jr., and Johnny Palmer were only two strokes off at 137, as was Bob Goalby.

Although there is keen interest in the front runners, the real crowd and pro-pleasing gimmick is the $50,000 prize for a hole-in-one.

Souchak' almost got it on Thunderbird's 148-yard eighth when his tee shot dropped in and then bounced out of the cup, winding up six inches away.

Had the flag been leaning in the other direction, the ball probably would have stayed in the hole.

Pitching Was Big Problem For Reds In 1959 Season

By FRED HUTCHINSON
Manager, Cincinnati Reds

BRADENTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If anyone needs proof of the importance of good pitching, just let him review the record of the Cincinnati Reds last year. We led the league in batting, slugging, hits, runs scored, runs batted in and total bases. We had adequate defense and better than average speed. Yet we couldn't do better than finish in a tie for fifth.

Why? We were seventh in pitching effectiveness with an earned run average, giving up nearly 4½ runs a game. We lost 27 games by blowing leads in the last three innings. Obviously, that meant we had a decided weakness in the pitching department, especially in the bullpen.

It is not difficult to understand, then, why we parted with such fine players as Johnny Temple and Frank Thomas in order to do something about our pitching.

The addition of Cal McLish and Bill Henry should give us a pretty good staff although we still could use more help on the mound. The holdover are Don Newcombe, Bob Purkey, Joe Nuxhall, Jim Brosnan and Brooks Lawrence.

We also have youngsters like Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Orlando Pena, all rookies last year. Coming up are Mike Cuellar, Claude Osteen, Ed Palmquist, Dave Stenhouse and Ted Wieand.

Although I'm sure we'll miss Temple, I feel we are pretty well protected in the infield with fellows like Roy McMillan, Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Willie Jones. We have a fine crop of infield rookies in shortstop Chico Cardenas, second baseman Elio Chacon, third baseman Cleff Cook and first baseman Gordon Coleman.

If Coleman can make it, Frank Robinson will return to the outfield. An outfield of Vada Pinson, Gus Bell and Robinson doesn't shape up bad at all. As reserve outfielders we have Jerry Lynch, Pete Whisenant and Lee Walls.

We're pretty well set in catching with Ed Bailey, Frank House and Dutch Dotterer.

Summing it up, I feel we're still not entirely sound to be an outstanding contender but we should be stronger and our pennant chances are very good if we can coordinate our hitting, fielding and pitching.

(Next: Casey Stengel, New York Yankees.)

Return Bout All Set But Signing, Johansson Says

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson's adviser says the return match with Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight boxing title is all set for New York in June, except for the signing.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's adviser, claimed Thursday only "technicalities" prevented an actual signing in New York last week. He said the champion will return to America later this month to sign.

Bill Fugazy, one of the chief executives of Feature Sports, Inc., the new promotional group, said in New York the fight would be held in the Polo Grounds during the week of June 19-25.

"The only thing holding us up in getting our license from the New York State Athletic Commission," he said. "We hope to get it this week. When we do, we will apply for a date."

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Fabulous 'Fabulous Fifties'

LOS ANGELES.

Well, Leland Hayward did it again.

Flying directly in the face of some odious comparisons with his first and only other TV show, the celebrated and almost legendary Mary Martin - Ethel Merman show of 1953, Hayward proceeded to top himself with his Sunday "Fabulous Fifties" (CBS-TV), which was, in just about every respect, a marvelously tuneful, witty and good-looking nostalgic, and thought-provoking show.

John Crosby

"The Fabulous Fifties" had three ingredints that are rarely found—at least, in such generous quantities—on television. They are pace, style, and taste.

—:—

IN THE FIRST PLACE: pace. Hayward had a two-hour show on his hands so he didn't start out as if he were running five furlongs. The show started slowly and beautifully with a montage of still pictures backed up by melodies—all the melodies we've been whistling these last 10 years — everything from "Volare" to those damned Chipmunks—the whole thing designed to put us in a properly nostalgic mood.

The photographs of Perry Como, Frank Sinatra, of surf breaking on shore, of Judy Garland getting younger — all arranged by Charles Eames—were bold and simple and stunningly effective. The treatment of our just-closed decade might be described as both satiric and affectionate.

You hardly can ask for a nicer combination than that — if you can achieve it, which is not easy.

DICK VAN DYKE, for instance, he of the rubbery face and the boneless Ray Bolgeresque body, did a gay, charming spoof in pantomime of a male wallflower trying to keep abreast of the dance mania from the Mambo to the cha-cha-cha to rock 'n' roll — and not making it.

It was delicious. Shelley Berman had a very funny bit as a father trying to reason with his son, Flip Mark, and getting thoroughly worsted.

Suzy Parker engaged in a funny skit which brought to life those manic advertisemetns — startig with Flama Grande where the girl is caught by the gypsy's whip. ("I wasn't even supposed to get off the bus"). And including those martini-drinkers up a tree, a lovely idea.

It was written by Mike Nichols and included one of the funniest lies in my memory. When Henry Fonda asked Suzy Parker, rolling about on the floor, how may lipsticks she sold: "166 million, silly," purred Miss Parker.

FROM TIME TO TIME, in the two hours, the satire, the whimsy, the gaiety were interrupted for some deeply serious thoughts which gave tone and an added dimension to the show. I devoutly hope some other TV producers and sponsors paid close attention.

Human beings are not all of a single piece; we are enormously complex and many-faceted individuals and to gratify the whole man you cannot think exclusively of one of our many moods.

One of the serious moments was the reading from Anne Morrow Lindbergh's "Gift From the Sea," again with the background of Charles Eames's lovely photographs, a plea for individuality in this crowded life.

There were other serious moments—mostly contributed by Eric Sevareid, who added a sort of philsophic base to the program. One was the reading of Robert Scott's last letter written to Sir James M. Barrie while dying at the South Pole.

NO HISTORY of the last decade could be written without paying some heed to television, which was one of its most conspicuous aspects, for good or ill. There were shots of Milton Berl in those horrible bathing suits, Mary Martin flying in Peter Pan, Sen. McCarthy simpering, Edward R. Murrow, and Martin and Merman singing that noted duet. What a decade it's been!

From the great musical hit, "My Fair Lady," Julie Andrews did her cockney number "Just You Wait, 'Enry 'Iggins" and Rex Harrison gave an utterly brilliant rendition of "I'm an Ordinary Man" — both superb. Elaine May and Mike Nichols contributed a satiric duologue on the quiz scandal, which put that historic incident into proper perspective.

Adolph Green and Betty Comden did a lovely bit about the movies, showing among other things what Cinemascope has done to the love scene.

I HAVE a few minute reservations. There was a cartoon bit attributed to Robert Paul Smith (a very funny man but no cartoonist) which I frankly didn't dig.

Then there was the Jackie Gleason number which may have been a mistake. Gleason gave it his extraordinarily talented all — but that material from the Broadway musical "Take Me Along" should never have been placed cheek by jowl to Alan Jay Lerner's witty and literate lyric from "My Fair Lady" or, for that matter, that music next to Fritz Loewe's great score.

That "Take Me Along" is pretty shoddy in its own right, but placed where you can make comparisons to "My Fair Lady," it's painfully amateur.

Otherwise, though, it was a great, adult, witty, pretty, literate show from a great showman and, like Hayward's other TV operation, a memorable show that people will be talking about for a long time to come.

Meeting Night Of Job Board Poses Puzzle

A reorganization meeting of the Municipal Civil Service Commission is scheduled tonight at 7:30 at City Hall—or is it?

That's the question Atty. Ben H. Berman, a member of the commission, is seeking to thresh out with Donal I. Burcham, the chairman. Clarence E. Reagle, a steelworker, is the third member of the commission, newly - appointed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet to succeed Alvin T. Babb, Republican, whose term ran out at the end of 1959.

The history of the present puzzle over a meeting date goes back to January. The commissioners were unable to get together on a date for last month's meeting.

Atty. Berman, the lone Republican on the board, said in response to a query today that he has received no notice of the scheduled meeting tonight except for an announcement published in the newspaper Tuesday, quoting Burcham about plans for the session.

Atty. Berman said he sent a special delivery letter to Burcham Thursday, asserting that he had received no notice of the meeting. The attorney said he feels the meeting tonight would be "improper" because the commission's regular meeting date falls on the last Monday of the month. A special meeting can be called legally only by giving notice to all the members or by having their consent, he added.

Atty. Berman said he sought repeatedly to get in touch with the chairman to work out a meeting date, but never was able to contact him. He said his special delivery letter requests a reply from Burcham and adds the hope that the commission will be able to continue to carry on its affairs in an amicable fashion.

The attorney said he did not know of plans for a meeting tonight until a friend called to his attention the announcement published in the newspaper.

Burcham said the commission would elect a chairman and a clerk at its meeting tonight. Collin Neal is the present clerk, named in early 1958 after Raymond Borger, clerk, and Clarence Wright, a member of the commission, submitted their resignations. Babb then was named to the commission by former Mayor Fred Lawrence to succeed Wright.

Patrol To Use Planes To Track Car Speeders

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Patrol plans to start tracking down speeders in this area by airplane.

Cpl. E. P. Gofos, commander of the patrol's Middletown post, said the aerial patrol, already in use in some parts of the state, will be started here but the exact date has not been set.

Patrolmen in airplanes spot the speeders and then notify cruisers on the highway to intercept them. Gofos said one of the main roads to be patrolled from the air is Ohio 4 between here and Hamilton.

Ohio Power Cites Gains In Development

CANTON, Ohio — More than 2,000 new jobs are being provided in Ohio as a result of the combined efforts of the Ohio Power Co.'s area development program and local development organizations last year.

A. N. Prentice of Canton, Ohio Power's vice president and general manager, said that a total of 19 new industries either started operating or began construction of new plants in the company's 53-county service territory during 1959. The industries, which will have combined annual payrolls of $9,400,000, will provide jobs for about 2,050.

"Not to be overlooked," he said, "is the fact that these manufacturing jobs will create a demand for many additional jobs in the retail trade, services and professional fields. Recent studies indicate that 100 new manufacturing jobs result in a total employment increase of 174 due to the greater load on service type industries.

The company's Area Development Section personnel participate in programs sponsored by the Ohio Planning Conference, Ohio Municipal League, Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the new Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development and other private development agencies whose assistance is of interest and importance to communities served by Ohio Power.

3rd Television Station Being Sought For Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wheeling, W. Va. - Steubenville, Ohio, area is one of 13 areas in which Congress has been asked to aid the American Broadcasting Co. in getting authority to broadcast television programs.

An ABC spokesman said his company wants Congress to encourage the Federal Communications Commission to assign a third television channel in the areas.

The areas each have two channels but are regarded by ABC as big enough to handle three. Presently only the Columbia and National Broadcasting Systems have stations in the areas.

Chills Explained

● Papanicolaou Test

Q. What is the best thing to do when a feverish person has a chill?

A. Apply external heat in the form of hot water bottles and extra blankets. Warming the skin makes the patient more comfortable and tends to head off more temperature. Here is a brief explanation. During a chill the skin vessels contract, skin temperature falls, and the feverish person experiences a sensation of coldness. The lowered skin temperature triggers heat control centers in the body and shivering follows. The muscular work of shivering may increase heat production by as much as 200 per cent. The idea is to prevent shivering and the unwanted increase in body heat by warming the skin as suggested.

Q. Why don't doctors do the Pap. test on all women patients?

A. The Papanicolaou test is very useful, especially in examining large groups of women of all ages about whom nothing is known of their medical history. The situation is somewhat different when the doctor is dealing with individual patients. Here he questions the patient, determines her age (cervical cancer occurs in about one out of a hundred women past age 35—much less frequently in younger women), inquiries about the menstrual history, and perhaps by a general examination, determines what types of tests are indicated. He may or may not suggest a smear test, depending upon the circumstances. On the other hand, cancer detection in large measure is the responsibility of all of us. Early cancer must be looked for. For women this means monthly self-examination of the breasts and yearly examinations of the reproductive system by a physician who will use the most practical methods which can be applied.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Fabulous 'Fabulous Fifties'

LOS ANGELES.

Well, Leland Hayward did it again.

Flying directly in the face of some odious comparisons with his first and only other TV show, the celebrated and almost legendary Mary Martin - Ethel Merman show of 1953, Hayward proceeded to top himself with his Sunday "Fabulous Fifties" (CBS-TV), which was, in just about every respect, a marvelously tuneful, witty and good-looking nostalgic, and thought-provoking show.

John Crosby

"The Fabulous Fifties" had three ingredints that are rarely found—at least, in such generous quantities—on television. They are pace, style, and taste.

—:—

IN THE FIRST PLACE: pace. Hayward had a two-hour show on his hands so he didn't start out as if he were running five furlongs. The show started slowly and beautifully with a montage of still pictures backed up by melodies—all the melodies we've been whistling these last 10 years — everything from "Volare" to those damned Chipmunks—the whole thing designed to put us in a properly nostalgic mood.

The photographs of Perry Como, Frank Sinatra, of surf breaking on shore, of Judy Garland getting younger — all arranged by Charles Eames—were bold and simple and stunningly effective. The treatment of our just-closed decade might be described as both satiric and affectionate.

You hardly can ask for a nicer combination than that — if you can achieve it, which is not easy.

DICK VAN DYKE, for instance, he of the rubbery face and the boneless Ray Bolgeresque body, did a gay, charming spoof in pantomime of a male wallflower trying to keep abreast of the dance mania from the Mambo to the cha-cha-cha to rock 'n' roll — and not making it.

It was delicious. Shelley Berman had a very funny bit as a father trying to reason with his son, Flip Mark, and getting thoroughly worsted.

Suzy Parker engaged in a funny skit which brought to life those manic advertisemetns — startig with Flama Grande where the girl is caught by the gypsy's whip. ("I wasn't even supposed to get off the bus"). And including those martini-drinkers up a tree, a lovely idea.

It was written by Mike Nichols and included one of the funniest lies in my memory. When Henry Fonda asked Suzy Parker, rolling about on the floor, how may lipsticks she sold: "166 million, silly," purred Miss Parker.

-:-

FROM TIME TO TIME, in the two hours, the satire, the whimsy, the gaiety were interrupted for some deeply serious thoughts which gave tone and an added dimension to the show. I devoutly hope some other TV producers and sponsors paid close attention.

Human beings are not all of a single piece; we are enormously complex and many-faceted individuals and to gratify the whole man you cannot think exclusively of one of our many moods.

One of the serious moments was the reading from Anne Morrow Lindbergh's "Gift From the Sea," again with the background of Charles Eames's lovely photographs, a plea for individuality in this crowded life.

There were other serious moments—mostly contributed by Eric Sevareid, who added a sort of philsophic base to the program. One was the reading of Robert Scott's last letter written to Sir James M. Barrie while dying at the South Pole.

NO HISTORY of the last decade could be written without paying some heed to television, which was one of its most conspicuous aspects, for good or ill. There were shots of Milton Berl in those horrible bathing suits, Mary Martin flying in Peter Pan, Sen. McCarthy simpering, Edward R. Murrow, and Martin and Merman singing that noted duet. What a decade it's been!

From the great musical hit, "My Fair Lady," Julie Andrews did her cockney number "Just You Wait, 'Enry 'Iggins" and Rex Harrison gave an utterly brilliant rendition of "I'm an Ordinary Man" — both superb. Elaine May and Mike Nichols contributed a satiric duologue on the quiz scandal, which put that historic incident into proper perspective.

Adolph Green and Betty Comden did a lovely bit about the movies, showing among other things what Cinemascope has done to the love scene.

I HAVE a few minute reservations. There was a cartoon bit attributed to Robert Paul Smith (a very funny man but no cartoonist) which I frankly didn't dig.

Then there was the Jackie Gleason number which may have been a mistake. Gleason gave it his extraordinarily talented all — but that material from the Broadway musical "Take Me Along" should never have been placed cheek by jowl to Alan Jay Lerner's witty and literate lyric from "My Fair Lady" or, for that matter, that music next to Fritz Loewe's great score.

That "Take Me Along" is pretty shoddy in its own right, but placed where you can make comparisons to "My Fair Lady," it's painfully amateur.

Otherwise, though, it was a great, adult, witty, pretty, literate show from a great showman and, like Hayward's other TV operation, a memorable show that people will be talking about for a long time to come.

Band Leader Dies

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in nearby Seville for Athos (Ace) Brigode, 67, nationally known band leader, who died here Wednesday after a heart attack. During 1920-27, Brigode toured the country with his own band, called Ace Brigode and his Virginians.

Meeting Night Of Job Board Poses Puzzle

A reorganization meeting of the Municipal Civil Service Commission is scheduled tonight at 7:30 at City Hall—or is it?

That's the question Atty. Ben H. Berman, a member of the commission, is seeking to thresh out with Donal I. Burcham, the chairman. Clarence E. Reagle, a steelworker, is the third member of the commission, newly - appointed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet to succeed Alvin T. Babb, Republican, whose term ran out at the end of 1959.

The history of the present puzzle over a meeting date goes back to January. The commissioners were unable to get together on a date for last month's meeting.

Atty. Berman, the lone Republican on the board, said in response to a query today that he has received no notice of the scheduled meeting tonight except for an announcement published in the newspaper Tuesday, quoting Burcham about plans for the session.

Atty. Berman said he sent a special delivery letter to Burcham Thursday, asserting that he had received no notice of the meeting. The attorney said he feels the meeting tonight would be "improper" because the commission's regular meeting date falls on the last Monday of the month. A special meeting can be called legally only by giving notice to all the members or by having their consent, he added.

Atty. Berman said he sought repeatedly to get in touch with the chairman to work out a meeting date, but never was able to contact him. He said his special delivery letter requests a reply from Burcham and adds the hope that the commission will be able to continue to carry on its affairs in an amicable fashion.

The attorney said he did not know of plans for a meeting tonight until a friend called to his attention the announcement published in the newspaper.

Burcham said the commission would elect a chairman and a clerk at its meeting tonight. Collin Neal is the present clerk, named in early 1958 after Raymond Borger, clerk, and Clarence Wright, a member of the commission, submitted their resignations. Babb then was named to the commission by former Mayor Fred Lawrence to succeed Wright.

Patrol To Use Planes To Track Car Speeders

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Patrol plans to start tracking down speeders in this area by airplane.

Cpl. E. P. Gofos, commander of the patrol's Middletown post, said the aerial patrol, already in use in some parts of the state, will be started here but the exact date has not been set.

Patrolmen in airplanes spot the speeders and then notify cruisers on the highway to intercept them. Gofos said one of the main roads to be patrolled from the air is Ohio 4 between here and Hamilton.

Ohio Power Cites Gains In Development

CANTON, Ohio — More than 2,000 new jobs are being provided in Ohio as a result of the combined efforts of the Ohio Power Co.'s area development program and local development organizations last year.

A. N. Prentice of Canton, Ohio Power's vice president and general manager, said that a total of 19 new industries either started operating or began construction of new plants in the company's 53-county service territory during 1959. The industries, which will have combined annual payrolls of $9,400,000, will provide jobs for about 2,050.

"Not to be overlooked," he said, "is the fact that these manufacturing jobs will create a demand for many additional jobs in the retail trade, services and professional fields. Recent studies indicate that 100 new manufacturing jobs result in a total employment increase of 174 due to the greater load on service type industries.

The company's Area Development Section personnel participate in programs sponsored by the Ohio Planning Conference, Ohio Municipal League, Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the new Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development and other private development agencies whose assistance is of interest and importance to communities served by Ohio Power.

3rd Television Station Being Sought For Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wheeling, W. Va. - Steubenville, Ohio, area is one of 13 areas in which Congress has been asked to aid the American Broadcasting Co. in getting authority to broadcast television programs.

An ABC spokesman said his company wants Congress to encourage the Federal Communications Commission to assign a third television channel in the areas.

The areas each have two channels but are regarded by ABC as big enough to handle three. Presently only the Columbia and National Broadcasting Systems have stations in the areas.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

Chills Explained

● Papanicolaou Test

Q. What is the best thing to do when a feverish person has a chill?

A. Apply external heat in the form of hot water bottles and extra blankets. Warming the skin makes the patient more comfortable and tends to head off more temperature. Here is a brief explanation. During a chill the skin vessels contract, skin temperature falls, and the feverish person experiences a sensation of coldness. The lowered skin temperature triggers heat control centers in the body and shivering follows. The muscular work of shivering may increase heat production by as much as 200 per cent. The idea is to prevent shivering and the unwanted increase in body heat by warming the skin as suggested.

Q. Why don't doctors do the Pap. test on all women patients?

A. The Papanicolaou test is very useful, especially in examining large groups of women of all ages about whom nothing is known of their medical history. The situation is somewhat different when the doctor is dealing with individual patients. Here he questions the patient, determines her age (cervical cancer occurs in about one out of a hundred women past age 35—much less frequently in younger women), inquiries about the menstrual history, and perhaps by a general examination, determines what types of tests are indicated. He may or may not suggest a smear test, depending upon the circumstances. On the other hand, cancer detection in large measure is the responsibility of all of us. Early cancer must be looked for. For women this means monthly self-examination of the breasts and yearly examinations of the reproductive system by a physician who will use the most practical methods which can be applied.

Ohio college basketball had its usual number of thrills Thursday night.

Tom Stetzer, just returned to Kenyon's team after a period of scholastic ineligibility, hit for two points in the last 10 seconds to gve the Lords an Ohio Conference win over Otterbein, 63-61.

The game puts the Lords 2-7 in the conference and 3-10 over-all.

In the high scoring game of the night, Ashland whipped Heidelberg 122-106. Ashland (10-6) was sparked by Wilber Ritzhaupt with 29 points and Boze Johnson with 27.

In other battles, Akron (11-4) took an Ohio Conference match from Marietta, 95-71. In a Mid-Ohio League overtime game, Wilmington tripped Findlay 98-91. The main session ended at 86-all. Lincoln (Mo.) dumped Wilberforce 87-57.

Wilt Hits Over 2,000 Mark In First Season

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia rookie who is well on his way to re-writing the National Basketball Assn. record book, joined a very select group today after playing only 53 games in the circuit.

The Stilt became the third player in NBA history to go over the 2,000-point mark in one season Thursday night when he scored 43 points as the Warriors bowed to the Syracuse Nationals 137-110. The 43 gave him a total of 2,011.

George Yardley, now of the Nats, and Bob Petit of St. Louis are the other members of the exclusive club. But neither hit the mark until their fifth season of pro competition. Yardley scored 2,001 points two seasons ago and Pettit raised the record to 2,105 during the 1958-59 campaign.

The hapless Cincinnati Royals went down to their 11th straight defeat, losing to the Detroit Pistons 121-102.

Spahn Refuses Pact Offered By Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the highest paid pitcher in baseball, expects to have a great year in 1960 and won't accept the contract offered him by the Milwaukee Braves.

The 38-year-old veteran southpaw who drew about $70,000 in 1959 told the Milwaukee Sentinel Thursday night he was "very much disappointed" with the contract offered him. He declined to say whether he had been asked to take a salary cut.

Spahn had a 21-15 record last year. It was the 10th season in which he had won 20 or more games.

Spahn said his left knee, on which he underwent surgery Nov. 2, is fine and his legs feel better than ever.

Lucasville Man Bound Over In Bank Robbery

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Argalus Noel Ison, 22, of Lucasville, Ohio, has been bound over to the next grand jury of the U.S. Southern District Court of Ohio. Ison, alias Gale Noel Wells, waived a hearing here Thursday on a federal bank robbery charge.

Ison is charged with the $1,128 robbery of the Piketon, Ohio, branch of the First National Bank of Waverly last Monday.

Bond was set at $25,000 by U.S. Commissioner Thomas A. Burchett Jr.

Ison was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff Bill Manning in Sandy Hook, Ky.

Police said $720 was found on Ison.

Explosive Point Raised By DiSalle, Secretary Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A court test of a question posed Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle might blow the roof off the Statehouse, said Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

DiSalle asked if it was possible for Ohio to have two favorite sons for the presidential nomination in the same party.

Posing the problem in mock seriousness at a news conference, the governor made reference to himself and Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter, who both want the favorite son role but have different candidate slates for the Democratic national convention.

"Can a man (Porter) run for county engineer and president of the United States at the same time; are the positions compatible?" DiSalle asked.

A legal aide to DiSalle said he was sure the question had never been presented for determination but added he felt it would be too difficult for a person to hold both offices simultaneously.

Secretary of State Brown said a legal test of such a question might involve State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The auditor is running for the Republican nomination as auditor and is also second choice for president of the GOP headquarters' slate of candidates for the GOP national convention.

Clay Shop Locals Air Possibility Of Forming Unit

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it has invited letters and comment from members on a proposal to merge into one unit all the clay shop locals in the East Liverpool district pottery plants.

Representatives of all the affected locals discussed the question at a meeting last week at IBOP headquarters, then agreed to report the idea to their individual subordinate unions. Another meeting will be scheduled later, after the locals have had an opportunity to act on the proposal.

The IBOP pointed out that about 22 local unions have jurisdiction among the various trades in each plant. It cited 7 affected clay shop locals: Local 10, turners and handlers; Local 12, jiggermen; Local 21, claymakers; Local 29, dishmakers; Local 53, finishers; Local 131, battersout and mouldrunners, and Local 132, handlers, casters and finishers.

The IBOP asked that letters and comment on the suggestion be directed to Frank Dales, international sixth vice president.

Police Association Discusses Roadblocks

LISBON — Eighteen members of the Police and Sheriff's Association of Columbiana County met Wednesday evening at the County Jail and discussed procedure in setting up roadblocks.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, president, presided.

A committee composed of chiefs Americo Radeschi of East Liverpool, John Hephner of Wellsville and William McGuckin of Columbiana, Chief Deputy James Miller and Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol, and another member from Salem to be appointed, will go over plans for a county roadblock.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, March 2, for election of officers.

3 Youths Ask Separate Trials In Murder Case

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Three youths charged with second-degree murder in the Dec. 6 death of James R. Weber, 25, of Akron, have filed requests here for separate trials.

A hearing will be held Tuesday on the petitions submitted Thursday by Doyle F. Baird, 21, and Gale O. Botzer, 21, both of Akron, and Alan R. Patterson, 22, of Barberton.

Weber was beaten in a fight, run over by a car, and his body dragged for a mile over Akron streets after his clothing caught on an obstruction under the car.

City Needs Truck Before Naming New Dog Officer

A new part-time dog warden will be appointed as soon as the administration can arrange for a truck for his use and work is completed on putting the pound in readiness for use again, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

Council cleared the way Monday night for the mayor to name a part-time warden at a salary of $100 monthly. The mayor said he already has received several applications.

The major question is arranging for a truck for the warden's use, the mayor pointed out, as he must be ready to answer calls and transport dogs from all parts of the city.

A truck used by a former warden was turned over to the incinerator department about a year ago when the dog control officer was laid off in an economy move. The warden's former truck replaced another truck which the incinerator department turned over to the street department.

Goodballet indicated he will approach Council with a request for funds to purchase a truck.

A brick building at the sewage disposal plant will be used again as a pound for holding captured dogs. Ordinances require the city to hold a dog for 72 hours after capture in order that it may be reclaimed by the owner by paying a pound fee. The pound is being cleaned out in preparation for use again, the mayor said.

East Liverpool had a full-time warden until about a year ago, when he was laid off — along with several other employes — in an economy move. Since that time, the only control of dogs here has been through periodic visits of county wardens from Lisbon.

4 More Parking Spots Proposed For City Hall

The administration plans to create four new parking places for officials' cars at City Hall by utilizing a narrow strip of lawn between the east wall of the building and the sidewalk in adjoining Peach Alley, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

The job will entail removing a short stretch of barberry hedge between the lawn and the sidewalk and then applying a blacktop surface to a narrow strip of lawn that extends from the east entrance of City Hall toward W. 6th St. The lawn in front of the building will be left intact.

In a similar move a few years ago, three parking spaces were created out of a small patch of lawn to the south of the east entrance of City Hall. Parking has been a problem for years around the municipal building because it is bounded on two sides by alleys in which no parking is permitted and on the other sides by metered spaces.

Ohio Faces Penalties In Wheat Growing Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal government filed a declaratory judgment action against the state of Ohio in U.S District Court here Thursday for allegedly exceeding federal quotes on wheat grown on farms at state institutions in 1955 and 1956.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle met with Judge Mell G. Underwood after the suit was filed in Underwood's court.

The state faces $28,000 in penalties. None of the wheat in question was sold, the governor said. "We used it at the various institutions," he explained.

Farms named in the suit are at hospitals, prisons and institutions near Massillon, Apple Creek, Lebanon, London, Mount Vernon, Tiffin, Orient and Grafton.

Ohio College Tilts Marked By Thrills

By The Associated Press

Ohio college basketball had its usual number of thrills Thursday night.

Tom Stetzer, just returned to Kenyon's team after a period of scholastic ineligibility, hit for two points in the last 10 seconds to gve the Lords an Ohio Conference win over Otterbein, 63-61.

The game puts the Lords 2-7 in the conference and 3-10 over-all.

In the high scoring game of the night, Ashland whipped Heidelberg 122-106. Ashland (10-6) was sparked by Wilber Ritzhaupt with 29 points and Boze Johnson with 27.

In other battles, Akron (11-4) took an Ohio Conference match from Marietta, 95-71. In a Mid-Ohio League overtime game, Wilmington tripped Findlay 98-91. The main session ended at 86-all. Lincoln (Mo.) dumped Wilberforce 87-57.

Wilt Hits Over 2,000 Mark In First Season

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia rookie who is well on his way to re-writing the National Basketball Assn. record book, joined a very select group today after playing only 53 games in the circuit.

The Stilt became the third player in NBA history to go over the 2,000-point mark in one season Thursday night when he scored 43 points as the Warriors bowed to the Syracuse Nationals 137-110. The 43 gave him a total of 2,011.

George Yardley, now of the Nats, and Bob Petit of St. Louis are the other members of the exclusive club. But neither hit the mark until their fifth season of pro competition. Yardley scored 2,001 points two seasons ago and Pettit raised the record to 2,105 during the 1958-59 campaign.

The hapless Cincinnati Royals went down to their 11th straight defeat, losing to the Detroit Pistons 121-102.

Spahn Refuses Pact Offered By Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the highest paid pitcher in baseball, expects to have a great year in 1960 and won't accept the contract offered him by the Milwaukee Braves.

The 38-year-old veteran southpaw who drew about $70,000 in 1959 told the Milwaukee Sentinel Thursday night he was "very much disappointed" with the contract offered him. He declined to say whether he had been asked to take a salary cut.

Spahn had a 21-15 record last year. It was the 10th season in which he had won 20 or more games.

Spahn said his left knee, on which he underwent surgery Nov. 2, is fine and his legs feel better than ever.

The next meeting will be March 7 at the Lisbon Village Hall.

Lucasville Man Bound Over In Bank Robbery

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Argalus Noel Ison, 22, of Lucasville, Ohio, has been bound over to the next grand jury of the U.S. Southern District Court of Ohio. Ison, alias Gale Noel Wells, waived a hearing here Thursday on a federal bank robbery charge.

Ison is charged with the $1,128 robbery of the Piketon, Ohio, branch of the First National Bank of Waverly last Monday.

Bond was set at $25,000 by U.S. Commissioner Thomas A. Burchett Jr.

Ison was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff Bill Manning in Sandy Hook, Ky.

Police said $720 was found on Ison.

Explosive Point Raised By DiSalle, Secretary Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A court test of a question posed Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle might blow the roof off the Statehouse, said Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

DiSalle asked if it was possible for Ohio to have two favorite sons for the presidential nomination in the same party.

Posing the problem in mock seriousness at a news conference, the governor made reference to himself and Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter, who both want the favorite son role but have different candidate slates for the Democratic national convention.

"Can a man (Porter) run for county engineer and president of the United States at the same time; are the positions compatible?" DiSalle asked.

A legal aide to DiSalle said he was sure the question had never been presented for determination but added he felt it would be too difficult for a person to hold both offices simultaneously.

Secretary of State Brown said a legal test of such a question might involve State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The auditor is running for the Republican nomination as auditor and is also second choice for president of the GOP headquarters' slate of candidates for the GOP national convention.

Clay Shop Locals Air Possibility Of Forming Unit

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it has invited letters and comment from members on a proposal to merge into one unit all the clay shop locals in the East Liverpool district pottery plants.

Representatives of all the affected locals discussed the question at a meeting last week at IBOP headquarters, then agreed to report the idea to their individual subordinate unions. Another meeting will be scheduled later, after the locals have had an opportunity to act on the proposal.

The IBOP pointed out that about 22 local unions have jurisdiction among the various trades in each plant. It cited 7 affected clay shop locals: Local 10, turners and handlers; Local 12, jiggermen; Local 21, claymakers; Local 29, dishmakers; Local 53, finishers; Local 131, battersout and mouldrunners, and Local 132, handlers, casters and finishers.

The IBOP asked that letters and comment on the suggestion be directed to Frank Dales, international sixth vice president.

Police Association Discusses Roadblocks

LISBON — Eighteen members of the Police and Sheriff's Association of Columbiana County met Wednesday evening at the County Jail and discussed procedure in setting up roadblocks.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, president, presided.

A committee composed of chiefs Americo Radeschi of East Liverpool, John Hephner of Wellsville and William McGuckin of Columbiana, Chief Deputy James Miller and Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol, and another member from Salem to be appointed, will go over plans for a county roadblock.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, March 2, for election of officers.

3 Youths Ask Separate Trials In Murder Case

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Three youths charged with second-degree murder in the Dec. 6 death of James R. Weber, 25, of Akron, have filed requests here for separate trials.

A hearing will be held Tuesday on the petitions submitted Thursday by Doyle F. Baird, 21, and Gale O. Botzer, 21, both of Akron, and Alan R. Patterson, 22, of Barberton.

Weber was beaten in a fight, run over by a car, and his body dragged for a mile over Akron streets after his clothing caught on an obstruction under the car.

City Needs Truck Before Naming New Dog Officer

A new part-time dog warden will be appointed as soon as the administration can arrange for a truck for his use and work is completed on putting the pound in readiness for use again, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

Council cleared the way Monday night for the mayor to name a part-time warden at a salary of $100 monthly. The mayor said he already has received several applications.

The major question is arranging for a truck for the warden's use, the mayor pointed out, as he must be ready to answer calls and transport dogs from all parts of the city.

A truck used by a former warden was turned over to the incinerator department about a year ago when the dog control officer was laid off in an economy move. The warden's former truck replaced another truck which the incinerator department turned over to the street department.

Goodballet indicated he will approach Council with a request for funds to purchase a truck.

A brick building at the sewage disposal plant will be used again as a pound for holding captured dogs. Ordinances require the city to hold a dog for 72 hours after capture in order that it may be reclaimed by the owner by paying a pound fee. The pound is being cleaned out in preparation for use again, the mayor said.

East Liverpool had a full-time warden until about a year ago, when he was laid off — along with several other employes — in an economy move. Since that time, the only control of dogs here has been through periodic visits of county wardens from Lisbon.

4 More Parking Spots Proposed For City Hall

The administration plans to create four new parking places for officials' cars at City Hall by utilizing a narrow strip of lawn between the east wall of the building and the sidewalk in adjoining Peach Alley, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

The job will entail removing a short stretch of barberry hedge between the lawn and the sidewalk and then applying a blacktop surface to a narrow strip of lawn that extends from the east entrance of City Hall toward W. 6th St. The lawn in front of the building will be left intact.

In a similar move a few years ago, three parking spaces were created out of a small patch of lawn to the south of the east entrance of City Hall. Parking has been a problem for years around the municipal building because it is bounded on two sides by alleys in which no parking is permitted and on the other sides by metered spaces.

Ohio Faces Penalties In Wheat Growing Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal government filed a declaratory judgment action against the state of Ohio in U.S District Court here Thursday for allegedly exceeding federal quotes on wheat grown on farms at state institutions in 1955 and 1956.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle met with Judge Mell G. Underwood after the suit was filed in Underwood's court.

The state faces $28,000 in penalties. None of the wheat in question was sold, the governor said. "We used it at the various institutions," he explained.

Farms named in the suit are at hospitals, prisons and institutions near Massillon, Apple Creek, Lebanon, London, Mount Vernon, Tiffin, Orient and Grafton.

Man Electrocuted

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Dale Allamon, 29, of Warren, stopped to help two men erect a television antenna Thursday and was electrocuted when the antenna came in contact with wires carrying 24,000 volts.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a husband who is basically a very nice person but in the morning is so mean it's impossible to get a civil word out of him.

I've made a special effort before breakfast to be sweet and considerate. I've cautioned the children not to get in his way or bother him with foolish questions. I've forced myself to be cheerful even when I felt rotten.

I've tried pampering, cajoling, humoring and even scolding but have had no success whatever. Any suggestions? — BATTING ZERO.

Dear Batting: You may as well bat your head against the wall.

Some people are sullen, uncommunicative and just plain ornery in the morning and the only thing that helps is time — like about two hours.

Nothing is so irritating to a morning sourpuss as a patronizing, chirping wife. Ignore him.

What About Heredity?

Dear Ann: How strong is the heredity factor between mother and daughter? What I'm trying to say is, what are the chances for a girl's turning out to be just like her mother?

I've been going with a girl whose mother is of poor moral character. She's a vicious gossip, lowbrow in her manner of speaking and a habitual liar. She's the type who will borrow money then go across the street to avoid looking a person in the eye.

I keep wondering if any of her traits will crop out in the daughter later on. Once in awhile the girl will take on a certain look that resembles her mother to a "T" and I get very upset. In many ways the girl is pleasant and good company. What do you say? — C.T.S.

Dear C.T.S.: Character traits are not inherited in the same way we inherit blue eyes or curly hair. But environment plays a large part in shaping basic values. The heredity versus environment battle has been going on since the Kallikaks and the Jukes. There have been so many notable exceptions on both sides that the jury is still out.

In your case I'd advise you to find another girl. Even though this one may be a gem you'd constantly be examining her for mama's traits and this eventually would put the dead hand on any marriage.

Diamond In Rough

Dear Ann: I know this is a foolish question but I don't know who else to ask.

I had a date with a very nice gentleman last evening and he took me to a fancy place for dinner. (We are both middle-aged people, not teen-age kids.)

The first course was a large fruit cup with a sweet wine poured over it. I was shocked when he picked up his fork instead of his spoon. He finished the fruit cocktail with the fork although I used the proper utensil.

This bothered me all evening. Should I have mentioned it to him or did I do right to ignore it? — AUNT E.P.H.

Dear Aunt: If he is a new acquaintance it was best to ignore it. If you had been out with him several times you might have said, "Think I'll start with the fork, too, even though it's not proper. It's easier to spear the grapefruit."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Children Should Learn The Alphabet

In these days when most children are taught to read by the look-and-say (word) method, many can't identify all the letters of the alphabet at the end of the first grade. Some can't do so in the second grade and a few can't as late as the third or fourth grade. Some bright young man or woman looking for the subject of a master's or doctor's thesis should find this a fertile field for research. The first thing any parent of a child beyond the first grade who can't read, or barely can read, should ascertain is: Can the child identify the 26 (just 26, mind you) letters of the alphabet? How any child can spell without knowing his A B C's is beyond one's imagination. I wonder how many hundreds of mothers could write the following letter from an Arizona mother.

By Garry Meyers

"I HAVE A boy in the third grade who is having trouble in all his school subjects. He does not know all his alphabet yet.

"Can you give me help with his other studies, too. Although I have alphabet flash-cards and have been practicing with him, he needs more help."

Here is the way I answered this mother:

I hope you are very patient with him. How could you or I read at third-grade level if we didn't know our A B C's? How could we even read then from a primer or first-grade reader, unless we had memorized the words or sentences? How could we write words or sentences?

How could we follow printed directions in any subject of the third grade if we couldn't read? How in the world could we learn to spell, even first- or second-grade words?

IT'S FINE YOU are trying to help your son learn his letters. But flash-cards are pretty deadening for him. Besides, they suggest speed and tempt you to expose him to too many at a sitting. If you do use these cards, pick out just two or three letters for him to practice on an evening, letters very unlike and not easily confused.

Be calm as you help him. After he has looked at and named a certain letter, have him find it as often as he can from the page of an easy book. After he masters the 26 letters in print he also will need, for his grade, to learn them in script and use them in writing.

Please don't make him feel ashamed he doesn't know them. Celebrate his successes.

Man's Fellow Janitors Rich In Compassion

BARRINGTON, R.I. (AP) — Albert G. Marone's fellow workers are not rich men. They are school janitors, not a very lucrative profession. But they are rich in compassion.

The 44-year-old Marone used up his sick leave and vacation time because of a back injury. And he still needs four more weeks off to recover.

Noting he has a wife and two children to support, the Barrington Janitors' Assn. went to the school superintendent and offered to work overtime without pay to Marone's work.

School Superintendent Ian D. Malcolm approved the plan so Marone could continue receiving his salary.
